LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Trial by Jury:
A Suggested Reform

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—In a leaderette on the 30th ult., re the Casserley case, you said, inter alia, that one of these days an alteration will undoubtedly be made in the system of trial by jury, and you went on to describe how the judges do their utmost to direct the jury towards a course of a proper thinking in order to arrive at a fair and just verdict though they, the judges, cannot do everything possible to ensure a dispassionate judgment in which they are so well qualified, etc., etc.

That an improvement is wanting in this respect is quite obvious, and its advent warrants no further delay, or remain in the offing. Under present procedure the findings of juries very much depend upon the summing up of the presiding judge which, humanly, could be prejudiced, a possibility which should be guarded against in the interest of justice and equity.

Trial by jury is not the creation of modern thought. It has its background in remote biblical records. In the Pentateuch we are told how murder and other criminal cases, inclusive of important civil ones, were tried and decided by the elders of the community. Elders, in this sense, does not signify aged and hoary people. They were men of importance and sagacity; men well versed in the law and common sense, men of integrity who could be relied upon for sound judgments and fairplay. Such men required no telling by a presiding judge how to receive a case and how to decide it. They did so on the strength of their own intellect and ability of understanding.

It is such men of a jury that we need now as ever, and these could only be obtained from amongst the students of the law, viz, judges, magistrates and lawyers, who should be made to attend to cases in courts, as jurymen. In towns and counties where superabundance of the lawfaculty is not available, members of the community could be called to fill in the gap, but these should always be in the minority, and, in all respects, the foreman should be chosen from the law circle. Such an order could be established and become law by an act of parliament.

Business men, however fair minded and aboveboard they may be, are not conversant with the intricacies of the law, and are not, therefore, expected to be able to decide cases from points of law without the prompting of the judges, a procedure not, to my thinking, in consonance with the ideals of justice.

It requires the British Press to take the matter up and make a start, and we may, perhaps, in the course of a few years, see this an accomplished fact. Would not the "N.C.D.N." make that start, and do it right now?

LEGAL POINT.

Shanghai, June 7.

Mosquito Spray:
Value of Pyrethrum

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—With reference to BITTEN'S enquiry of June 3 regarding a suitable formula for mosquito spray, I have made a considerable quantity during the past few years and find that the kerosene and citronella oil mixtures are not very effective without the addition of pyrethrum and or other materials which are toxic to the insects to be killed. Also, since the kerosene is somewhat slow drying, it is desirable to add a certain proportion of a lighter material such as mineral turpentine (boiling range between that of kerosene and gasoline). This may amount to one-third to one-half of the total.

The mixture is prepared as follows: To the kerosene used for making one gallon of mixture add one half-pound of pyrethrum powder and allow to soak, with occasional stirring, for at least one week. This should be done in a stoppered bottle or carboy. Decant off the clear kerosene, after the pyrethrum has settled, into a second container. Then add the mineral turpentine and approximately 2 oz. each of any desired oils, such as citronella, sassafras, camphor, eucalyptus, wintergreen, etc. One or all may be added as desired. None are very toxic as compared to the pyrethrum extract but they give a desirable odour and appear to affect the appetite of the mosquitoes, especially if some of the mixture is sprayed on the ankles. In the above some of the kerosene is held by the pyrethrum powder left in the first container and more kerosene may be added to bring the total volume up to one gallon.

Regarding the addition of other toxic materials, these are sold mostly under some trade name and I prefer to leave the description of their use to those whose business it is to sell them.

It is to be noted that the above solution is not only effective in killing mosquitoes but is especially active on flies and other insects, which incidentally are less active than our Shanghai mosquitoes.

In exchange for the above I think some of our Shanghai game hunters should give a dissertation on "Tracking and Killing Insects."

ALCHEMIST.

Shanghai, June 8.

"What of the Night?"
The Noisy French Police

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—Whilst fully aware that there are subjects of far greater import to occupy our minds at this time than the mental welfare of individuals, I am constrained, as a last resort, to give publicity to my particular grievance, in the correspondence column of your newspaper.

Directly facing my house in the French Concession, there is stationed a police guard, the alternate "shifts" of which remain at their posts continuously through the day and night.

During the so-called hours of rest, say from 10.30 p.m. to 6 a.m., my sleep is frequently banished by the guard in question, talking loudly among themselves, their conversation being punctuated at intervals by noisy expectorations. I have made direct appeal for a stoppage—or at least mitigation—of this intolerable nuisance, and have also made verbal and written protest to the station under whose police jurisdiction we are placed, and although meeting with the greatest courtesy—an infallible trait in the French character—and assurances of an improvement in the present situation, conditions remain unchanged.

In these exceptionally trying times, when most of us suffer from taut nerves and need every hour of legitimate sleep to meet and overcome unprecedented contingencies arising during our day's work, surely it is not too much to beg that avoidable noise, caused by those from whom we ordinarily seek protection, should be eliminated?

I am told, facetiously, that policemen on night duty must talk to keep themselves awake, but as they presumably have had their modicum of rest before assuming duty, must their victims without redress undergo the mental torture imposed upon them?

I cannot understand the seeming inability of the French authorities to enforce silence on the part of their employees during the hours stated. I would be more than grateful if they would grant as a favour, what I have repeatedly asked as a concession.

MISERY.

Shanghai, June 7.

Refugees and Sanitation:
Who Contributes?

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—The refugee question is getting quite a problem for our City Fathers and the residents of the International Settlement.

With the hot season at our heels and the menace of a cholera epidemic, with the P.H.D. shorthanded, it is about time somebody come forward with a solution to the present vexed problem. The poor refugees are to be found in all alleyways and vacant houses when they can get into them. They are all dirty, not having had anything like a wash, with their clothes or rags covered with lice, bugs etc. Eating the cheapest possible things that they can get and cooking their eatables in insanitary utensils, it is a wonder that they have not contracted diseases and died therefrom.

Now what I am driving at is, how much longer they will be allowed to live as they do. There is a stench coming from almost every street especially when one passes an alleyway. This is very pronounced in Szechuen Road from the Post Office Bridge up to Nanking Road corner where Whiteaways are located. There is a very objectionable stench of ordure which apparently has been emptied into the drains.

The P.H.D. and the P.W.D. would be lacking in their duties towards the ratepayers if they do not look into the matter immediately especially at the present time when there is the epidemic of cholera here.

The landlords can assist by seeing that their tenants do not overcrowd their rooms with paying refugees who understand very little about sanitation.

As to contributing towards the support of these unfortunate people who have been rendered homeless, there are many foreigners who are also in a very sad plight but who get little support. Cannot something be done for these before we think of the natives? How much have the Chinese contributed? I have read about the handsome contribution of the former Canton Warlord, General Chen Chi-tang, but has anyone read about any large subscriptions by the multi-billionaires Gen. Chiang, T. V. Soong and Dr. H. H. Kung?

JOE BEEZYBODIE.

Shanghai, June 7.

This English:
The Prepositional Ending

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—Reading Michael Arlen's "These Charming People" the other day, I came across the sentence, "Anger is no sort of a weapon with which to fight solitude...." While a sentence construction like this sounds not uncommon in usage, doubt arises as to whether a relative pronoun can be grammatically employed to introduce something other than a clause, the latter being the ordinary practice, it seems. Would it be better English, if it read, "Anger is no sort of a weapon to fight solitude with...."? Or, is the construction of the original sentence sanctioned by grammarians?

T. W.

Shanghai, June 7.

Michael Arlen merely sought to avoid a prepositional ending, some people regarding it as anathema. But, as Fowler says, "almost all our great writers have allowed themselves to end a sentence or a clause with a preposition," and he winds up his notes on this particular subject:—

"Follow no arbitrary rule, but remember that there are often two or more possible arrangements between which a choice should be consciously made; if the 'abnormal or at least the unorthodox, final preposition that has naturally presented itself sounds comfortable, keep it; if it does not sound comfortable still keep it if it has a compensating vigour, or when among awkward possibilities it is the least awkward."

In the above case there is little to choose between either form.

Useless Pursuits:
Misprint No Obstacle

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—I submit below a solution to DELPHIS problem.

Nothing is brought down to line 3; this must be a misprint and lines 3 and 4 have, therefore, been moved 1 place to the right.

The divisor cannot be greater than 128 since, when multiplied by 7 and deducted from a three figure number, it leaves at least 100, (line 5).

Line 6 must be 900 + and is therefore the divisor x 8; lines 2, 7 and 8 must be divisor x 9.

The 4th digit of the quotient must be 0 since two digits are brought down to line 7.

Quotient = 97809.

Divisor (max 128) x 9 is less than 1200:— 6th line must be between 989 and 999 and divisible by 8 i.e. 124

Answer: 12128316 ÷ 124 = 97809

FORM I.

Shanghai, June 7.

This solution, according to DELPHIS is correct.

A Printer's Mistake

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—Either DELPHIS or your typesetter seems to have got mixed up slightly over their "dots" as the puzzle, as printed in today's issue, is manifestly "dotty"—7 times the divisor being apparently less than the first remainder!

The silly season has definitely arrived.

However, it is fairly obvious how the unknown figures should be distributed and the answer reveals itself as 124 × 97089 = 12039036.

The problem was solved purely by logic, but as I cannot improve on the nine short sentences of DELPHIS solution I do not propose to go more fully into it, except to say that the same principles and method of attack were employed as in the "Send more money" problem.

TAM B.

Shanghai, June 7.

The proof-reading error to which Tam B. refers should have been obvious. The dots in question should have been one more point to the right. Tam B. has arrived at the correct divisor, but the application of the pure logic which he claims did not permit of his rectifying the very patent mistake of the printer. The rest of his answer is consequently, wrong.

To Stamp Collectors:
A War Veteran's Plea

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

I should like to bring this letter to the notice of your readers who may be interested.

Yours etc.
A. PULLEN,
Hon. Secretary, United Services Association.

Dear Sir and Comrade:

Would you please place this letter in the hands of some member of your Legion whom you think may be interested in the exchange of postage stamps. Or perhaps you would read it at one of your future meetings.

I am a disabled veteran and unable to work, so have taken up this hobby to help pass away the weary hours.

I am not what you would term an advanced collector having only started a year ago. I can exchange Canadian and others, either stamp for stamp, or on the basis of Gibbons 1938 Catalogue.

Sir, I would appreciate very much if you could see your way clear to help me out in my request.

Here's hoping Sir, this letter bears fruit and thanking you in advance.

Inoculation Certificates:
Should Japanese Have Them?

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—I have read with interest the announcement by the Japanese authorities that none will be allowed in the Japanese occupied areas without a certificate showing that he has been inoculated against cholera.

This precaution as a whole of course is a good one. But what are the authorities on the Southside of the Creek doing to prevent Japanese from carrying cholera into the settlement? Are we going to station our sentries on the southside of the bridge and ask every Japanese for his certificate? I strongly hope that our Municipal brass heads wake up at this late hour and move if necessary a couple of tanks on the southside of the Creek and enforce similar measures against the Japanese.

DOPEY.

Where Reform Should Start

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—Reformist obviously recognises the tremendous need for the world to be changed.

My personal experience is that the change must begin with myself. "Only God-controlled people will make God controlled nations to make a new world"

Oral Vaccines:
As Good as Injections?

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—A local physician of repute has stated to the writer that vaccines taken by the mouth are only active as long as the vaccine remains in the bowel and that they do not produce the necessary antibodies in the blood.

I have before me a circular issued by a very reliable firm of Biological chemists which states that their oral vaccines contain "these substances which effect a definite formation of antibodies in the blood."

It would be interesting therefore to have a statement from the local medical association as to their opinion of the value of Oral Vaccines.

Chinwangtao Conditions:
Need for Inoculations

To the Editor of the
"NORTH-CHINA DAILY NEWS"

SIR,—It will interest all those who intend to go to Peitaiho to know what happened to the passengers on the s.s. Kaiping which arrived in Ch'nwangtao on June 3:

We arrived at 6.30 p.m. and Chinese doctors came on board and word went forth that all passengers had to be inoculated.

We all filed into the smoking room and were done.

It would be wise, therefore, if all passengers going north be inoculated against cholera before they leave Shanghai and take their certificates with them. This applies to servants also. It will save much time and trouble at Chinwangtao.

W. J. HAWKINGS.

THE delegation from the World Student Association now visiting China, which has just concluded a tour of the war front in Chekiang, arrived in Nanchang on Sunday and left there for Hankow yesterday, says a message to the "Morning Leader."

Current Films

NANKING.—"The Bad Man of Brimstone." — Mirroring civilization's march on America's savage last frontier, this epic has romance of the old West, Wallace Beery as "Trigger" Bill. The cast includes Virginia Bruce, Dennis O'Keefe, Lewis Stone, Bruce Cabot, Guinn Williams, Noah Beery, Joseph Calleia, Guy Kibbee and Cliff Edwards. Opens today.

GRAND.—"The Buccaneer."—The flaming romance of Jean Lafitte, America's most amazing hero and rogue. Scene after scene of awe-inspiring grandeur and roaring action by that master producer of epics, Cecil B. deMille. Heading a cast of thousands are Fredric March, Franciska Gaal, Akim Tamiroff, Margot Grahame, Walter Brennan, Ian Health, Douglas Dumbrille and Beulah Bondi. Reviewed elsewhere.

CATHAY.—"Women are Like That," —Starting off with a wedding where the best man gets the bride and the bridegroom gets the air, Kay's latest comedy romance provides the glamorous star with one of her best roles to date. There's a grand cast headed by Kay Francis, Pat O'Brien, Ralph Forbes, Melville Cooper, Thurston Hall, Grant Mitchell and Herbert Rawlinson. Reviewed elsewhere.

METROPOL. — "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." — Walt Disney's first feature-length animated production is a wonder-feast of thrills, fun and romantic drama, with equal appeal for juveniles and grownups. Everybody has read Grimm's folk tales, in whose fascinating pages "Snow White" and her little dwarf pals are born.

CAPITOL.—"Head Over Heels in Love."—Jessie Matthews in one of her smartest musicales, supported by Whitney Bourne and Louis Borell. Last day.

PARIS.—"Hollywood Hotel."—Dick Powell and the Lane Sisters, Rosemary and Lola, supported by Hugh Herbert, Ted Healy and Glenda Farrell.

RIALTO.—"Women of Glamour."—Smart sophisticated comedy and emotional drama are combined in this picture starring Virginia Bruce and Melvyn Douglas. Others are Reginald Denny, Pert Kelton and Leona Maricle. Last day.

Thrills in the Air

Few more irresistible combinations could be imagined than that of Myrna Loy, Clark Gable and Spencer Tracy. They have just completed "Test Pilot," a story in which tragedy and comedy are rather grimly blended. The hero is one of those reckless, quixotic air pilots with a weakness for whiskey, who must be quite unbearable in real life but who somehow manage to win women's hearts on the screen.

This part, which sounds a typical Spencer Tracy one, is taken by Clark Gable, while Tracy plays the rather secondary rôle of his mechanic and devoted stand-by. Myrna Loy has some more than harassing moments as the wife of the conceited and nerve-racked pilot, but she manages to reclaim him in the end. Apart from the story, which is definitely strong meat, there is some exceptionally fine photography, and the actual flying sequences are as exciting as anything that has been done on those lines.

"Test Pilot" is a shining example of why Hollywood pictures are money-makers. The producers have eliminated the risk of failure. The cast has a three-fold drawing power, since each one of the stars appeals to a different audience. Psychology and action are skilfully blended; the background is modern, and the theme of flying is very much of the moment. This deliberate calculation and balancing of popular ingredients does not detract from, but rather enhances the feeling of spontaneity the finished picture gives.

Paramount Attraction

Number dances, sometimes referred to as spot dances, will be a special attraction tonight at the Paramount Ballroom. The winners will receive valuable merchandise prizes. Number dances are held every Monday and Thursday. On Sunday there will be a tea dance. New music, direct from the United States, has been received by Gloria Andico's Paramount orchestra, some of which will be played tonight for the first time. The Paramount is air-cooled and air-conditioned and there is no cover charge.

Pavillion Concerts

Jimmy's Pavillion, opposite Jessfield Park, is featuring a daily afternoon concert, with music by a string band. The concerts commence at 4.30 o'clock and are followed by dinner dances, for which music is provided by Nina Xellan's American Orchestra. In addition, Bingo is played at 5 p.m. and every evening. Jimmy James, proprietor, has installed a number of competitive games and the Pavillion has an excellent, well-kept wee golf course. Commencing Saturday there will be an open invitation wee golf tournament, for which cash prizes will be awarded. The results of the Letter Contest, which closed June 6, will shortly be announced.

Shirley Temple as New Sunnybrook Rebecca

In Role Made Immortal By Mary Pickford

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT

London, May 19.

How screen history repeats itself! Here we have Shirley Temple due to appear in that American classic "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm". This story, if my memory serves me, was one of Mary Pickford's successes in the old silent days. Little Miss Temple can certainly claim as high a box office record as little Miss Pickford did in her heyday. But when one considers that Shirley at the tender age of ten, is undertaking a part which the former World's Sweetheart created when she was well on in her teens, it is plain that she has reached a turning point in her career.

It means that Shirley will have to drop baby ways and begin the difficult process of growing up on the screen. It is a severe test, but Shirley has a way of passing the most arduous tests with flying colours. The new version of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" will probably be altered out of all recognition. Song numbers, believe it or not, have been introduced. In one of them the little star sings a pot-pourri of the tunes she has popularized in her previous pictures.

There are no long "rests" between pictures for Shirley. When one thinks that this child has to cram school lessons into her working day, memorize complicated dance routines, lines of dialogue, and song numbers, one realizes that she is without doubt the hardest working person in Hollywood. At the moment she is busy making "Little Miss Broadway," which as its title suggests is a fairly sophisticated type of story Shirley's dancing will be the main feature of this new picture. One of the routines she has to learn lasts for seven and a half minutes, and is almost as complicated as anything Fred Astaire has ever undertaken.

Return of Bergner

Elizabeth Bergner has not appeared in a film for eighteen months. In the meantime she has become a naturalized British subject and has acquired a home in Surrey. None of Miss Bergner's English pictures, with the exception of "Escape Me Never," have been outstanding box-office successes. Bergner is a great artiste, but her scope is limited. She cannot adapt herself to a story that does not suit her personality; on the other hand there is always the danger of her personality swamping the story.

Margaret Kennedy, author of "The Constant Nymph," struck the ideal balance with "Escape Me Never," in which Bergner made her English stage and screen reputation. Now Miss Kennedy has written another original story for her called "Stolen Life," which is going into production at the Pinewood Studios.

Dr. Czinner, Elizabeth Bergner's husband, who has directed her in every film she has ever made, will again be responsible for the production. He has formed a new company and hopes to make a number of pictures besides those in which his wife appears. Most of the scenes of "Stolen Life" are laid in the Dolomites, and there will also be location trips to Cornwall.

Casanova Gauchos

Apollo's Gauchos, the ace dance band at the Casanova, is now in its second successful week. Judging from the comment of patrons the band is high in favour. In the way of entertainment, the Casanova offers a floor show headed by the Dixie Sisters, American coloured singers and dancers.

"A Star Is Born" depicted the Hollywood of the movies. "Menial Star," from the RKO-Radio stable, will show you Hollywood as it is really lived up by the residents of this fabulous village—the actual people in the streets, in the stores and the unpublicized cafes and night haunts.

Rival for Astaire

It is a well-known fact that Hollywood always snaps up every stage actor with any claim to a reputation or talent. Which makes the case of Jack Whiting all the more curious. For ten years he has been a famous Broadway star, and he has made several highly successful appearances on the English musical comedy stage, notably in "On Your Toes" with that other Hollywood discovery, Vera Zorina. But it was not until he appeared as Jessie Matthews' dancing partner in her last Gaumont-British film "Sailing Along," that Hollywood became aware of him.

Jack Whiting is not the conventional type of leading man, but he may very well create a new type. He has sandy hair, an infectious grin, and most persuasive personality. His charm is of the kind that registers effectively on the screen, and he is besides one of America's best tap dancers. His first film will be made for Paramount, and called "Give Me A Sailor."

Incidentally Jack Whiting is married to the first Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, which makes him the step-father of Douglas Fairbanks, jun. It must be an amusing relationship, for seeing them together one would take them for brothers rather than step-father and son.

The Ukranian Players

The Ukranian Cultural Society presents S. Artemsky's comic opera "Zaporojetz Za Dunaiem" ("Ukranian Cossack of the Danube") at the Lyceum Theatre tonight at 8.30, being the 75th anniversary of the opera's first presentation and 125th of the composer.

Vivid Ukranian costumes, dances and songs are among the attractive features of this show produced by Mr. A. Koomanovsky-Lobay; the cast includes Mr. and Mrs. A. Lobay, Mrs. A. Lebedinskaya, Mr. E. Hovans, Mr. J. Yakimoff, Mr. G. Totsky, Mr. A. Vasilieff and Miss N. Krivenko.

Maestro V. Saricheff conducts the orchestra. Shevlugin is in charge of dancing numbers while H. Enfield is responsible for the attractive scenery.

"Scarface" Joan Bennett

You may remember reading recently that Joan Benett's face was slashed during the making of a scene in her latest picture "The Texans." The producers are getting full value out of the accident. The strip of film on which it was recorded is going to be used, and the story adapted accordingly. Joan will appear with her scar turned full to the camera. For once the thrill will not be a fake.

Twentieth Century-Fox studio has exercised its option on Phyllis Brooks, who is playing a featured role in "Walking Down Broadway," and had an important role in the spectacular "In Old Chicago."

Jean Hersholt got his first Hollywood job because he owned both a dress suit and tuxedo.
Clothes made the man $15 a week.

The story behind the Hollywood story. Recently Paramount gave out the tale that Joan Bennett had fallen on a bayonet while working in "The Texans," and severely wounded herself on the forehead. Ex-husband Gene Markey was very upset when he read the item, spent an hour telephoning all local hospitals. But Joan wasn't there. He called her home. She wasn't there, either. In desperation he called the set. Miss Bennett answered. Of course, she was working. Why shouldn't she be, she asked Markey. The "wound" was a pin-size scratch.

Perverse Hollywood

Ever perverse, Hollywood has found that not only are the best night shots made in the daytime but that in many instances the illusion of daylight can be much more effective when photographed at night. Through new types of film and the use of filters it has been the practice for some time to simulate darkness at high noon.

In "Rage of Paris," in which Universal will introduce Danielle Darrieux to American audiences, exterior daylight shots are being photographed at night. If done in the daytime it would be necessary to mask the surrounding scenery with a glass shot and the mobility of the camera would be restricted.

IMPARTIAL NOT NEUTRAL

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY

Here's a health unto his majesty,
Conversion to his enemies,
And he that will not pledge his health,
I wish him neither wit nor wealth,
Nor yet a rope to hang himself,
With a fa, la, la, etc.

How different was the king for whom those words were written from His Majesty King George VI whose official birthday is being celebrated throughout the whole of the British Empire. The thoughts of many this evening will go back to the Horse Guards in Whitehall where doubtless the time honoured ceremonial, associated with this day of state, will be performed, for it will be morning there, while his loyal subjects in China will be drawing towards the close of a memorable day. There is something so different between the national days of Britons, the Empire Day of the British Commonwealth, and the birthday of the King. Two of them have about them the impersonal qualities of ideals, the third all the loyalty and affection which surrounds the second son of King George V in the enormous task which, unexpectedly, he was called upon to perform. It is not yet two years ago when the British Empire faced a crisis which brought a Prince to the throne other than he who it was expected would carry on his shoulders the responsibility of Empire. There was naturally some speculation as to how he would perform these arduous duties inseparable from that high calling: the enquiring eyes of millions of people asked the unvoiced question "What manner of man is this who has come to rule over us." That man has given the answer in the comparatively few months since his accession was announced; the answer has been, is, and will continue to be that the Empire has been fortunate in the man whom destiny has selected to be its embodiment.

We people in the Far East who are of the Empire, but not in it, who stand beyond the very outposts of this great commonwealth, are proud to be British. It is a pride not founded alone in traditions of the past but the performances of the present and the intentions for the future. We are British. We have ideals, some of which cannot be expressed, but merely felt, and when we see as we do in the personality of our King the embodiment of all those things which we believe represent the very soul of the British, it is but natural that the man should make a deeper appeal to loyalty and esteem than can ever be made by the mere demonstration of majesty. It is the man who has captured the imagination of his people, his quiet simple dignity, the example he sets in connection with his family life, the love he manifestly bears his children, and the whole-hearted service he is rendering his people. It was a very human person, who, a little more than a year ago, stood in that sacred fane which enshrines so much of the history of the Britons, and took oaths which bound him to a life of service, so weighty that perhaps it is just as well that they do not often have to be taken. That man in whom all the hopes of the Empire rested, clad in the majesty of a proud and virile people, has had a short while in which to show what manner of man he is, and he has found acceptance in the eyes of his subjects.

And so today in the many functions which have been arranged in honour of the occasion, there will be many toasts "unto his majesty," and perhaps there will be that added prayer "God bless him." For it is a prayer, even though at times it comes so glibly from the lips that it seems to be but an empty formula. The season of the observance of national days is now well under way, and Shanghai has that singular characteristic of being able to join in the rejoicings of each individual section of the community, so much so that it is reasonable to exclaim "Oh! If all the nations of the world understood each other as their representative communities in Shanghai do!" We are all animated by similar loyalties, by traditions formulated along common lines. The history of humanity makes that inevitable. The lines quoted above taken from "Catch that Catch Can; or The Musical Companion" of 1667 were written in ruffling days, of lace and the ready sword. It is apparent in the last four lines, but that wish no longer animates the Briton, especially on a day like this, for he is inspired by that thankfulness to a divine Providence which has given to the Empire—His Majesty King George VI.

Birthday Honours

China has done better in the King's Birthday honours list than for many a year past, and it is remarkably gratifying to note the men who have on this occasion received recognition of their valuable services to the community. The knighthood conferred upon Mr. Herbert Phillips, H.M. Consul-General, is obviously in recognition of his long and honourable service in China and together with that conferred upon Mr. A.D. Blackburn, represents deserved honours to two men who have served the British Community faithfully and well in the service which years ago they chose to join. The elevation of Mr. Calder Marshall to a knighthood of the Order of the British Empire will be particularly gratifying to residents in Shanghai who realize the enormous amount of quiet effective work he has done on the various public bodies he has served on during his long residence in this city. Most gratifying is the decoration awarded to Mr. E. S. Wilkinson. Naturally a busy man, Mr. Wilkinson has devoted much of his time in the service of the British community in Shanghai not the least of his activities being his arduous work for the Union Jack Club, and his service on the French municipal commission as one of the two members representing British residents in the French Concession. It is a splendid recognition of the high esteem in which he is held not only in Shanghai but by the Government at home. It would require more space than is available to dilate upon the excellent qualities of all those, Shanghai residents and others living in the outports, who have today received such signal recognition of their merits, but it will be sufficient to record their names elsewhere in his issue, and to extend to them the hearty congratulations of this journal and its readers who will naturally rejoice in their happiness.

Coffin Storage

The mountain has conceived and brought forth a mouse, though residents in Great Western and Edinburgh Roads will desire to remark parenthetically that the Municipal Council is now seeking to close the stable door after the horse has gone. Whichever way it is looked at, however, it is clear that the evils arising out of the storage of coffins in the western area has at long last brought about some sort of action by the Municipal Council as witness the following notification appearing in yesterday's issue:—

Notice is hereby given that within the Settlement and the Western Extra-Settlement Area served by Municipal roads, the erection of coffin repositories close to residences will not be permitted in future.

The attention of prospective operators of such repositories is directed to the necessity of registering their proposals with the Public Works Department of the Shanghai Municipal Council.

Information regarding the areas within which the establishment of coffin repositories will be permitted is obtainable upon application to the Acting Commissioner of Public Works.

Some weeks ago residents in the western area commenced writing letters to this journal on the subject of those institutions which the Council so euphonically describes as "coffin repositories." In those communications indignation, and anxiety were expressed in no mild terms. No particular notice appears to have been taken by the Council, and its officials, save that a bland assurance was given about the middle of last month that "it is difficult to see how disease can be caused by properly managed storage." Properly managed storage entails as a prerequisite that the coffins shall be hermetically sealed. The stench already to be noticed in Great Western Road, complaints of which have already reached this office, indicate that the coffins stored in the repository on that road, or at least some of them have not been hermetically sealed. The fears of those correspondents to the columns of this journal have been amply proved, and the present evidence of their correctness may be emphasized as the weather gets warmer. The history of several complaints which have been ventilated in these columns, and the attitude of the authorities towards them may be deduced from two recent incidents. Quite some time ago a large number of letters were published relating to the treatment of pigs imported into Shanghai. The official attitude seems to have been originally that all was for the best in the best possible of worlds, and it was not until the storm of indignation reached unusual heights that definite and determined action was taken to bring about the improvement which is now to be noticed. Again on several occasions reference was made to the large number of bad characters operating on the Bund. Official action was eventually obtained, and conditions to a certain extent rectified. A further outbreak of petty thieving brought more complaints, and now, with the use of patrols, the Bund has been restored to something approaching its former orderliness. The impression is created,—this journal even now prefers to believe it is an incorrect one,—that the Council or its officials completely ignore the complaints that are made to the local press, that it or they alone know what is best for the ratepayers of Shanghai, but if either of them endeavour to persuade the complainants that the stenches now complained of emanate from hermetically closed coffins, and constitute no danger to health the latter will be forgiven if like this journal they remark "We don't believe it."

Anti-Comintern Olympiad

One of the few phases of human endeavour based on the pure love of competitive effort and eschewing politics is the field of athletics. The sacred flame on Mount Olympus must be starting to splutter a little in view of the announcement that the Tokyo Foreign Office has formally approached Germany and Italy with a proposal to hold an "Anti-Comintern Olympiad" in Tokyo next autumn. Backed by Government Ministries and athletic associations, 100 German and Italian athletes are being invited to participate in the games and arrangements have gone so far as to include the provision of special steamship accommodation for the transport of these athletes to Japan. There is no harm in countries indulging in friendly competition on the field of sport. In fact, if there was an encouragement of this sort of thing the possibilities of war would be lessened, but it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that the Japanese proposal emphasizing participation of countries subscribing to one brand of political thought is as far removed from the genuine spirit of sport as anything could be. It strikes one as an effort to use sport as a means of cementing a political affiliation rather than tending to international amity which the wide interest in these games has sought to achieve. Objections have been raised in some countries to the holding of the Olympic Games in Tokyo in 1940 and the first country to denounce this opposition for its political character was Japan although most countries, striving to adhere to the fundamental idea of the Games, have not permitted circumstances in the Far East to interfere with their intention of being represented at the Games and upholding the international non-political ideal propounded by the founder.

IN PARENTHESIS

They Know

A LADY asked Moody, the evangelist, how she could tell whether or not she was converted. "Ask your servants," was the reply.

* * *

Spelling Error

AN old lady from Scotland, who was on a visit to London, saw in a West End stores the notice "Trousseaux Supplied." Stopping a shopwalker, she said to him: "That's no' the way we spell 'trousers' in Scotland."

Truly Defined

"DAD, what is a diplomat?" asked the small son of the house.

"A diplomat, my boy," replied his fond parent, "is a person who is appointed to avert situations that would never occur if there were no diplomats."

Art of Perspiring

THE camel's hump is an ugly lump
Which well you may see at the Zoo;
But uglier yet is the hump we get
From having too little to do....
The cure for this ill is not to sit still,
Or frowst with a book by the fire;
But to take a large hoe and a shovel also,
And dig till you gently perspire.
—Kipling.

Hangover Money

A NEW step forward in kindness and human understanding is marked by the decision of an American judge to reduce the fine imposed on a drunk to allow him "hangover money."

Although money is always urgently needed by everybody except misers, your need is greatest on dark green mornings when the sun is like an olive emerging from clouds of mayonnaise and you can think of nothing whatever to do with your liver except offer it to the nation for research work.

To leave a man in that state with no money to cure it is more fiendishly cruel than the ingenious tortures devised by the ancient Chinese.

Common weaknesses and misfortunes soften the hearts of us all, and I daresay the American judge has suffered himself.

In that case, he will also know the subtle exhilaration of the gradual recovery, the sympathy of one's friends, the little jokes and sly boastings about the night before, the slow emergence from semi-consciousness to a fuller realization of what's going on, the clearer perception of common objects, the feeling of well-being that creeps gently over the body, and the sudden dawning of a new day wherein dull commonplace men become great and all jokes are funny. One wishes the American judge a long life and happy hangovers.

Poetic Ambition

DEAR I. P.—

"Souls of poets dead and gone"
Who have proudly worn your laurel
And who made your verse live on,
Do you ever read our doggerel?
Do you show dissatisfaction
When you see our generation
Bring perhaps but labefaction
To your works of veneration?

Do you lift up withered hands
In a hopeless desperation
And hope someone understands
There is need for preservation
Of a great and ancient art
That has really thrilled its reader,
And transferred into his heart
All the feelings of the pleader?

By your glorious monument
But in vain no life was spent;
You will find in some far land,
Groups of younger poets stand,
"Souls of poets dead and gone,"
They too revel in poetry
And they'll bring another dawn—
With permission from I.P.?

Foreign University in Canton Bombed

Missiles Fall in Compound, Narrowly Miss Members of Lingnam Staff; Japanese Again Raid City; Power Plant Out of Action

Canton, June 8.

THIRTY-FIVE foreigners attached to the staff of Lingnam University had a close escape today when three bombs dropped by raiding Japanese 'planes landed in the compound. One of the bombs imbedded itself in a pathway without exploding, while the other two detonated with a terrific roar and shook the staff buildings from which the occupants were watching the raid.

A Chinese woman who was in the compound was killed, while several foreign women belonging to the staff suffered from shock. The foreign staff of the university, who were all there at the time of the raid, consists of 31 Americans, three Britons and a German.

Thirty-one Japanese 'planes took part in the raid, which began at 10.50 a.m. A large group of houses was demolished by several bombs in the Wongsha railway station area, and windows in Shameen, which is near by, were shattered. A terrific concussion was felt at the German Consulate and neighbouring buildings.

The Saichuen power-house received a direct hit, and was partly demolished, while eight bombs fell in the compound. There were, however, no casualties.

Telephonic communication between Shameen and Lingnam has been cut off, as has the service between Shameen and Saichuen.

The raiders also bombed Honam Island, Government offices and the vicinity of the White Cloud Mountain where there are certain military objectives.

Some of the missiles dropped on Honam Island are believed to have landed on the "Christian Village," while the bombing of Wongsha caused two tremendous fires among the oil stocks there, with flames leaping 50 feet high.

Saichuen again suffered severely, nearly 20 bombs being loosed on the area.

Hospitals Badly Affected

Hospitals here have been very hard hit by the lack of power, which particularly affects the preservation of serums, prevents X-Ray work, and interferes with operations.

With thousands of badly wounded persons needing succour, the situation is appalling.

Air-raid alarms, which were formerly worked by electricity, are now being sounded by bells.

During last night's raid on Saichuen, the railway station suffered, while the Meiwah School near by was demolished by a direct hit.

Messrs. Murphy, Buchanan and Visar, the three engineers of Malcolm & Co., who had narrow escapes when Japanese war 'planes bombed the Saichuen waterworks yesterday, have reached Shameen safely.

Interviewed, they said that 40 bombs had fallen in the waterworks compound in 24 hours. The casualties, however, were small, as most of the Chinese employees had evacuated.—Reuter.

Sailors Land In Shameen

Hongkong, June 8.

British naval authorities today confirmed reports that British naval units were landed on Shameen Island, Canton, last night.

They said the landing had no immediate significance, but was merely a precaution apparently against the chance that panic stricken Cantonese civilians might break into a wild rush for the foreign area.

French naval forces were landed in Canton several days ago to protect the Doumer Hospital, French owned institution which was bombed by Japanese planes.—United Press.

Houses Demolished

Several bombs were dropped south of the Pearl River Bridge, demolishing seventy houses and causing 35 casualties.

The city's power supply was restored at 4 p.m. Presumably the old Power Station was made use of as a temporary measure.

It is estimated that the population of Canton is at present only 500,000, compared with 1,500,000 in September last year.

A total of 400,000 is reported to have evacuated Canton during the past ten days as a result of the air raids.—Reuter.

"Barbarous, Pitiless Massacres" in China Denounced

London, June 8.

An appeal for a boycott on Japanese goods by miners has been made by the Executive of the South Wales Miners' Federation in a resolution expressing indignation against the ruthless war of aggression, which "Japanese imperialism is waging in China with systematic, barbarous and pitiless massacre of Chinese civilians."

The resolution expresses the hope that "Chinese victories will continue to have the effect of wearing down, and ultimately smashing, the power of the Japanese military clique, opening the way to peace, freedom and democracy in Japan and liberating China from the danger of foreign domination."

The resolution is being forwarded to Mr. Neville Chamberlain, the Prime Minister, and Viscount Halifax, the Foreign Secretary.

Scathing Press Comment

The Japanese air raids on Canton continue to receive prominence in the British press.

"There is now scarcely any pretence," says the "News-Chronicle" today, "that these murderous onslaughts have any other object than sheer, naked terrorism."

"The imbecility of the Japanese plan of campaign of continued and intensified air raids," it adds, "is almost as patent as its brutality."

The Japanese, the "News-Chronicle" goes on, have invaded China ostensibly to put an end to the anti-Japanese propaganda there. Is it possible to conceive any anti-Japanese propaganda more effective than these Canton massacres? The effect on world opinion must be not less unfavourable to Japan."

Referring to the bombings, the "Daily Mail" draws a moral: The need for increasing Great Britain's aerial defences.—Reuter.

"New York Times" View

New York, June 8.

The great indignation caused throughout the United States by the air bombings of open towns in Spain and China was stressed in the "New York Times" this morning.

"Such expressions of horror are certainly sufficient to cause all civilized governments to unite in the name of humanity and for the security of their own towns with a view to preventing indiscriminate bombings in future," the paper stated. "The British suggestion that the United States and neutral Powers send observers to investigate bombings in Spain seems useless unless the plan is extended to China. What is needed is a firm initiative by the United States, Great Britain, and France, and even other countries, so that a general plan may be realized with a view to preventing air raids on open cities wherever they be."—Havas.

R.A.F. Boxers Believed Dead in Crash

Plane Falls in Dense Jungle

SPECIAL TO THE "N.C.D.N."

Cape Town, June 8.

A military aeroplane, which disappeared on Monday, carrying three British Air Force boxers, a trainer and two members of the South African Air Force from Buluwayo to Pretoria, was sighted from the air yesterday as it lay wrecked in the jungle, 20 miles north of the Limpopo River.

One body was sighted beside the fragments of the machine.

Occupants of rescuing planes had to alight fifteen miles from the spot, because of the density of the jungle, and bushrangers are now cutting their way through to the scene of the disaster.—Reuter.

Italian Mission in Chengchow Damaged

Japanese Bombs Hit Church Damage Buildings

Vatican City, June 7.

Further details of damage caused the Italian Mission in Chengchow during a Japanese air raid last month, are given today in the "Osservatore Romano", semi-official news organ or the Papal City.

The cathedral and the old missionary church of the mission were completely destroyed, while the Archbishop's residence and the missionaries' houses were seriously damaged, this newspaper says.

However, it adds that no serious casualties occurred among the personnel, because special shelters saved them from the Japanese missiles.—Havas.

Another Night Raid On Canton

Canton, June 8.

Foreshadowing another sleepless night for Canton, the air raid alarm was sounded at eight this evening. A squadron of 25 Japanese 'planes were then reported to be heading towards Canton. Despite a slight drizzle and very poor visibility, the raiders arrived shortly after eight o'clock and were still over the city at 10.30 p.m. A couple of incendiary bombs were dropped on the West Bund, behind the Asia Hotel, causing a large fire, which is at present blazing furiously. Missiles were also dropped in the vicinity of the City Government offices and the White Cloud Mountains. The raiders also concentrated their attention on the Canton-Hankow and Canton-Kowloon Railways.—Reuter.

Chengchow Expected to Fall Soon

Japanese Within 35 Klm. of City

Flying columns of Japanese infantry were less than 35 kilometres from Chengchow yesterday and the capture of the important town at the junction of the Lunghai and Peiping-Hankow Railways is expected in a very short time, according to a message from the Japanese Army Headquarters in Peiping.

The dispatch said a Japanese detachment driving west along the Lunghai from Kaifeng captured Chungmow, half way between Kaifeng and Chengchow and only 25 kilometres east of the objective, at 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon.

Other Japanese columns which are driving south-westward threaten to cut the Peiping-Hankow Railway south of Chengchow, the dispatch stated.

Chinese troops who attempt to retreat west from Chengchow were said to be facing the danger of artillery fire from Japanese forces on the northern bank of the Yellow River.

Chinese Already Retreated

Japanese reports from the front claimed that about half of the Chinese forces in Chengchow, which first were estimated to total 15 divisions of 150,000 men, already have retreated from Chengchow southward or westward.

Gen. Hu Tsung-nan, commander-in-chief, was reported to have gone with his staff to a place in the southern section of the Peiping-Hankow line. The leaderless Chinese troops were said to be disorganized.

In a clash with a Chinese force between Hsiaopa and Tangshan along the Lunghai line, Japanese troops captured numerous locomotives, passenger and freight cars, a message from Peiping said. This rolling stock is aiding the movement of troops, the message stated.

According to reports reaching Tokyo, the Nationalist Government is planning to wage a decisive battle in the Hankow area. These reports said the Chiang Kai-shek Government had decided to "reduce all of Hankow to a great fortress."

Work was said to be going on to construct all sorts of defence works at Hankow, including artillery positions, anti-aircraft batteries and dug-outs.

Kaifeng Missionaries Safe

Field reports from Kaifeng stated that Chinese forces left 3,000 bodies inside and outside Kaifeng in the engagements which preceded its capture by the Japanese.

The Japanese captured 2,000 rifles and 50,000 rounds of ammunition there.

According to information from Tokyo, peace and order are being restored rapidly in Kaifeng and Chinese refugees are going back to their homes in increasing numbers.

Chinese citizens organized a Peace Maintenance Commission, according to the same reports, which said that no injuries had been suffered by 40 missionaries at Kaifeng who are being given protection by Japanese army authorities.

Main Body at Luyi

Hankow, June 8.

The vanguards of Japanese forces, comprising cavalry units, are stated in Chinese circles to have reached Weishih, south of Chungmow, probably with the intention of cutting the Peiping-Hankow Railway between Chengchow and Hsuchang.

East of Hsuchang, the Japanese troops are reported to be still at Luyi, with the main body concentrated at Luyi, while another Japanese detachment has occupied Tochen, north of Luyi.

Chinese reports state that the Japanese advance in this sector has been slowed down considerably by a heavy downpour.

Japanese troops from Shouhsien and Fengtai were said to have occupied Chengyangkwan early yesterday morning.

Chinese forces were now reported to be holding a line west of Chengchow, and were expected to put up strong resistance in the vicinity of Hochiu, which is a city surrounded by lakes.

The Japanese forces at Hofei, the reports added, were advancing towards the south-west in the direction of Shuchen, while fighting was at present in progress at Huatzekang, north-east of Shuchen.—Reuter.

Rice Shop Robbed

A rice shop at 168-170 North Honan Road was robbed by armed men shortly before noon yesterday. The robbers escaped with $120 and no shots were fired.

Air Raids on China Towns to Be Continued, Says Tokyo

Representations Made by British and French Ambassadors; Canton "Strongly Defended"

Tokyo, June 8.

JAPANESE air raids on the airfields and towns of China will be continued, a spokesman of the Foreign Office today told foreign press correspondents.

Hankow and Canton were included among the cities whose bombing will be continued.

Japanese airmen, the spokesman, however, emphasized, have never directed their attacks against non-combatants, nor will they do so in the future.

The spokesman revealed that M. Arsene Henry, French Ambassador, had made two different representations in connection with Japanese air raids on Canton.

Same as the British

The first of these, he said, was "almost a duplicate" of the British oral representations expressing an earnest hope for the discontinuation of the aerial bombing of Canton.

Mr. Kensuke Horinouchi, Vice-Minister for Foreign Affairs, in response assured M. Henry that Japanese attacks are confined to military establishments in Canton, "which is not an open town, but, on the contrary, a strongly defended city", the spokesman said.

He also told the French envoy that Japanese raids have never been directed against Chinese non-combatants.

The other French representation, made yesterday, dealt with damage allegedly caused to a French hospital in Canton as a result of a Japanese raid.

Investigation Proceeding

No reply has yet been made with regard to this demarche. Meanwhile, an investigation is in progress.

The spokesman referred to esolutions unanimously adopted by a mass meeting, held in Allahabad on May 28, 1937, under the auspices of Indian Mohammedans and Congress.

The meeting, he said, had passed a resolution denouncing the British aerial bombing of non-combatants of the Waziri tribes.

"In my opinion", the spokesman said, "British bombing was not directed against non-combatants, just as Japanese bombing is not directed against non-combatants, but solely aims at military establishments in Canton."—Domei.

No News of Chengchow Missionaries

Doctor Determined to Stay On to Attend Wounded

Hankow, June 8.

Some concern is being felt here regarding the safety of a handful of foreign missionaries who are at present in Chengchow, as there has been scant news about their activities during recent days.

The city is believed to have been bombed on several occasions during the past week, and this has caused the temporary interruption of telegraphic and rail communication between Hankow and Chengchow.

It is understood, however, that the train service between the two cities is to be resumed tomorrow.

A British missionary, Dr. Donald Hankey, is among those who have remained in Chengchow. He is labouring night and day attending to wounded Chinese soldiers.

Dr. Hankey recently telegraphed to Hankow, stating that he intended to remain in Chengchow in the event of an attack on the city.

Kikungshan, a popular holiday resort on the Hupeh-Honan border, where several Britons are still residing, is not yet in the danger zone, and is keeping in close touch with Hankow.—Reuter.

Pilgrimage to Lourdes Leaves London

SPECIAL TO THE "N.C.D.N."

London, June 8.

A pilgrimage to Lourdes, the town in south-west France whose Grotto contains a spring credited with miraculous powers of healing, left Victoria Station yesterday, led by the Bishop of Clifton.

The pilgrimage consisted of 850 persons, including 150 sick and crippled, thirteen trained nurses and ninety other personal helpers in attendance.—Reuter.

More British Ships Bombed Off Spain

H.M. Consul Escapes In Alicante Raid

Barcelona, June 8.

A Netherlands collier was bombed and damaged during the air-raid here on Monday night. The ship's First Officer was seriously injured and the British Non-Intervention Control Officer slightly hurt.—Reuter.

Valencia, June 8.

Six Nationalist aeroplanes participated in an air-raid on the city yesterday morning. The aircraft appeared to concentrate their attacks on four British ships moored alongside the quay, far from other possible objectives.

Two bombs exploded on the quay beside the British steamer Thurston, which was in drydock. She and three other ships beside her were sprayed with shrapnel, and the Thurston late yesterday was settling.

Republican planes eventually chased the raiders away, but casualty figures have not yet been made available.

Barcelona was subjected to two air raids by Nationalist planes during the night. Heavy casualties are feared.

Alicante was bombed again, eight persons being killed and twenty wounded.

Valencia was also raided, but the number of casualties is not known. --Reuter.

British Ships as Targets

Alicante, June 8.

Thirty-two persons were killed and 100 injured in the air-raid here today. Four Nationalist planes carried out the raid and dropped a total of 50 bombs.

The British Vice-Consul had a narrow escape and the British vessel English Tanker was bombed and set afire. There were no casualties aboard, but the vessel was still blazing furiously last night.

The Belgian Consulate was also set on fire, but the outbreak was later quelled. A church was, likewise, bombed and destroyed.

The British tanker Maryad, which was bombed on Saturday and set afire, was still burning yesterday.

The British cargo ship St. Winifred, which was hit by several bombs on Monday, killing three British members of the crew and two Lascars, and the British steamer Thorpe Haven, bombed yesterday, are so badly damaged that they are now unseaworthy.

Eight British ships have been damaged or sunk in the past ten days, including four in Alicante raids since Saturday.

This has led to the belief here that a deliberate attempt is being made to prevent British ships from entering Spanish Republican ports.

Reports received in London show that 58 British ships have been bombed or attacked by submarines since the hostilities began in Spain. Of this number six vessels have been sunk and fourteen sailors killed, while nearly fifty others have been injured.—Reuter.

Crew Refuse to Return

Buenos Aires, June 8.

Forty-five out of fifty members of the crew of the Celtic Star, registered in London, who are now loading a cargo of meat here, have refused to return to Spanish waters, where they previously had been bombed. The master of the ship has warned the men on the possible consequences of refusal to comply with their articles.—Reuter.

Second Segorbe Raid

Madrid, June 8.

Twenty persons were killed in a Nationalist air raid yesterday at Segorbe, on the road to Teruel, in the line of the Nationalist advance, following Monday's raid when twelve were killed and 29 injured.—Reuter.

Chiang Regime Still "Recognized"

Tokyo, June 8.

Referring to the Japanese Government's declaration on January 16, refusing further dealings with the Chiang Kai-shek administration, a spokesman for the Foreign Office stated today that the declaration meant that the Government would have no further dealings with the Chiang Kai-shek regime, but it did not mean non-recognition of this regime.—Reuter.

Shanghai in Honours List

Britons in China Well Represented in the Birthday Awards of H.M. King George VI

THE British community of China in general, and of Shanghai in particular, is well represented in the Birthday Honours List of King George VI, with two K.C.M.G.s, one K.B.E., four C.M.G.s, three C.B.E.s, four O.B.E.s, five M.B.E.s and one medal of the M.B.E. While most of the names contained in the list are of members of the British diplomatic and consular bodies, the names of a number of prominent members of the local British community also appear. It will be noted that among the latter appear the names of some of these who worked the hardest during those names days when the hostilities were really close to Shanghai.

The China section of the Birthday Honours List is as follows:—

K.C.M.G.:—Mr. A. D. Blackburn, C.B.E., Chinese Counsellor resident at Nanking); Mr. Herbert Phillips, C.M.G., O.B.E., who came to Shanghai in September, 1937, to take charge of the Consulate-General during some of the most troubled months of its history.

K.B.E.:—Mr. R. Calder-Marshall, C.B.E., of Calder-Marshall & Co., chairman of the British Chamber of Commerce, trustee of the Holy Trinity Cathedral and a leading member of the British community.

C.M.G.:—Mr. A. H. George, acting Commercial Counsellor of the British Embassy Offices in Shanghai; Mr. E. L. Hall Patch, financial adviser to the British Embassies at Peiping and Tokyo; Colonel W. A. Lovat-Fraser, O.B.E., British Military Attaché at Peiping; Mr. H. I. Prideaux-Brune, O.B.E., Chinese Secretary to H. M. Diplomatic Mission at Nanking since March, 1935, and Consul there.

C.B.E.:—Dr. J. L. Maxwell, of the Union Hospital, Hankow who has played a major role in leper work in China; Mr. A. E. Tipper, founder of the Tientsin firm of Tipper & Co. and formerly chairman of the British Chamber of Commerce there; Mr. E. S. Wilkinson, senior member of Thomson & Co., past president of the Royal Society of St. George, member of the French Municipal Council, and a leading member of the British community.

O.B.E.:—Major G. A. Herbert, Superintending Consul at Tientsin; Mr. J. H. Cubbon, Financial Secretary of the Shanghai Office of the Inspectorate-General of the Chinese Maritime Customs; Mr. A. R. Hogg, of the Confederation Life Association, Tsingtao, and one of the organizers of the foreign Vigilantes who maintained order there after the departure of the Chinese from that port and before it was taken over by the Japanese; Captain H. M. Smyth, Assistant Commissioner (I/C Divisions) of the Shanghai Municipal Police, who was Divisional Officer "C" (North of the Creek.) during the hostilities.

M.B.E.:—Mr. R. S. Heaney, Passport Officer of H. M. Consulate-General, Shanghai; Mr. W. C. Scott, Accountant of H. M. Consulate-General, Shanghai; Mr. H. F. Baker, assistant secretary of the British Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. E. G. Whitney, chairman of the British Women's Association, B.W.A. representative on the committee of the B.R.A., and a member of the executive committee of the Lord Mayor's fund; Captain J. D. Shotter (Military Division), manager and chief engineer of the China General Omnibus Co., Ltd., and a prominent member of the Royal Air Force Association of Shanghai, who played a large part in the organization of transport during the emergency.

Medal of the M.B.E.:—Sergeant A. R. Parsons.

Other Honours

The Honours List includes two elevations in the peerage and two new peerages, says Reuter.

The promotions affect Lord Stonehaven, formerly Governor-General of Australia, and Lord Weir, formerly Director-General of Aircraft Productions in the Ministry of Munitions, both of whom have been made Viscounts.

The two new barons are: Mr. Vivian Hugh Smith, partner in Morgan Grenfell and Company and Governor of the Royal Exchange Assurance Corporation; and Sir Josiah Stamp, Chairman of the London Midland and Scottish Railway and Director of the Bank of England.

Sir Donald Somervell, the Attorney-General, has been made a member of the Privy Council, while Sir Arthur Eddington, Director of the Observatory at Cambridge, has been awarded the Order of Merit.

King's Birthday Celebrations

Receptions by Ambassador And Consul-General; Military Parades

Loyal subjects of King George VI will today join with him and the Royal Family in the celebrations of his birthday. His actual birthday, it should be noted, is on December 14, but following the procedure of last year the birthday is celebrated six months later. This, of course, is due to the fact that His Majesty the King ascended to the throne only two days before his birthday and it was decided to postpone the celebrations of this auspicious day until later in the year, when a more fitting observance of his birthday could be held.

In Shanghai, the day will be quietly but appropriately observed in traditional manner, the chief events of the day being the Ambassador's garden party and the reception by H. M. Consul-General. The latter will be held in the Consulate between 11.30 a.m. and 12.30 p.m., when guests representing the diplomatic corps, consular body and the military and naval bodies will be received by Sir Herbert Phillips, H. M. Consul-General. The King's health will be toasted.

Other receptions to be held today include one in the "Dome" of the Hongkong & Shanghai Bank and another on the fifth floor of the "North-China" building, when naval and military representatives and a large number of prominent local residents will be the guests of the Royal Air Force Association of Shanghai and of the Zero Club respectively.

This evening at 6 o'clock Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, the British Ambassador to China, will hold an official reception at his home at 72 Rue Paul Legendre, when his guests will be representative of the diplomatic corps, consular body and various army and navy forces and of the Shanghai community.

Birthday parades will be held both by the First Battalion Durham Light Infantry and the First Battalion Seaforth Highlanders, in which their bands will play a prominent part. The Durhams will parade at the headquarters in Great Western Road while the Seaforths will parade in the Race Course.

"Trooping the Colour"

Local short-wave radio listeners will be interested to learn that the annual ceremony in London of "Trooping the Colour" by troops of the Household Brigade will be broadcast from Daventry this evening. The brilliant scene on the Horse Guards Parade, London, will be pictured by Daventry listeners by a B.B.C. observer and the tale will be taken up by the words of command, the music of the massed bands and the drum-beats that are an important part of the ceremony.

When his Majesty the King has inspected the parade, the stately ceremony of the actual Trooping begins. The Colour chosen for the honour, the King's Colour of the Battalion of the Brigade of Guards providing the King's Guard on the day in question, is marched with an escort round the lines of Guards, who salute it as it passes. The ceremony ends with the troops marching past the King in slow and then quick time, after which his Majesty places himself at the head of his Guards and leads them up the Mall to Buckingham Palace.

The ceremony has its origin in the Eighteenth Century, and is really a much-elaborated version of the daily mounting of the guard, combined with ritual designed to impress soldiers with the true significance of Colours. It should be noted that although King George's birthday falls on December 14, the Trooping takes place on whatever date it pleases his Majesty to name.

The ceremony will be broadcast from Daventry at 5.45 p.m. Shanghai time, the description being in the hands of Major J. B. S. Bourne-May (late Coldstream Guards), on the following wave-lengths:—13.93 metres, 21.53 mc/s; 13.97m., 21.47 mc/s; 16.86m., 17.79 mc/s; and 19.82m., 15.14 mc/s.

Big Fraud Discovered In England

500 Cases Hold Rubbish, Not Arms for China

London, June 8.

The discovery of a gigantic fraud in which five hundred packing cases supposed to contain arms destined for China, actually were filled with old boilers and bricks and stones from the demolished tower of a Methodist church in North London, is reported by the "Daily Herald" today.

The packing cases, states the journal, were supposed to contain £50,000 sterling worth of anti-tank guns for China and were consigned to Marseilles on the British steamer Merkland.

A Deptford firm, the newspaper says, received an order for the supply of packing cases, to be made according to a War Office pattern, and to be delivered to a Tottenham address.

The firm, however, called in the police when the driver of the lorry conveying the packing cases to the required address, revealed how the cases were filled.

The Chinese Embassy, questioned regarding the affair, stated that they had no knowledge of the alleged fraud.—Reuter.

Situation in Kingston Gradually Quietening

Land Settlement Scheme Aids Appeasement

SPECIAL TO THE "N.C.D.N."

Kingston, June 8.

Most of the strikes here have now been settled on the basis of increased pay for labourers.

No violence was reported yesterday, and the sudden change seemed due partly to the Government's £500,000 land settlement scheme, and partly to an appeal to workers to cease disorders and return to work to await the decisions of the Conciliation Board.—Reuter.

Eire President to Be Installed on June 25

Women Among General Election Candidates

SPECIAL TO THE "N.C.D.N."

Dublin, June 8.

It has been announced that the first President of Eire, Dr. Douglas Hyde, who was formally elected unopposed on May 4, will be installed in office on June 25.

Yesterday was nomination day for Eire's General Election on June 17. There are 219 candidates for 137 seats. The Speaker, Mr. Frank Fahy, has automatically been returned unopposed.

The candidates are as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Fianna Fail (Mr. de Valera's Party) | 96 |
| Fine Gael (Mr. William Cosgrave's Party) | 80 |
| Labour Party | 29 |
| Independent Parties | 14 |

There are only four women among the candidates, all of whom are widows of former deputies.—Reuter.

Uruguay Investigates Nazi Schools

Montevideo, June 8.

The Chamber of Deputies has created a Committee which will be entrusted with an investigation into the functioning of Nazi schools in Uruguay. This step was taken upon the request of a Socialist Deputy.—Havas.

Japanese Criticize Reports On Canton Air Raids

"Lop-sided" View of Damage Done Given by Stress Laid on Civilian Casualties; Military Objectives

FAILURE of foreign news agencies and newspaper correspondents in Canton to state the extent of damage caused to Chinese military establishments bombed by Japanese aircraft and giving only "highly coloured accounts of civilian losses" was giving the world a "lop-sided picture" of the situation, a Japanese naval spokesman said at a press conference here yesterday morning.

"From the accounts published in Shanghai it would seem as if none of the Japanese bombs ever hit their targets, but caused only widespread havoc among civilian Chinese," he said.

"But reports from an American news service and from the correspondent of a British-owned English-language newspaper in Hongkong, have confirmed our claims that the military objectives against which the bombs were directed were hit.

"For instance, a United Press dispatch of May 30 states that the Provincial Garrison Headquarters in Canton were hit in all the Japanese air raids of that week-end, while the "South China Morning Post" correspondent revealed that one municipal middle school that was levelled by Japanese bombs had been used to quarter Chinese soldiers."

"Singular" Omission

The spokesman recalled that Rear-Admiral Naokuni Nomura, chief of the Naval Special Service Section in Shanghai, had noted that it was "singular" that none of the dispatches published in Shanghai told of losses to Chinese military institutions. "We assume that the same situation prevails in other parts of the world," he remarked.

Countering a suggestion by a foreign correspondent attending the conference that Chinese censorship was responsible for the deletion of such passages, the spokesman pointed out that detailed descriptions of damage to strategic points in Canton were being published in Hongkong, which was in telephone communication with Canton.

"It is because only the civilian casualty angle is being emphasized that the world is getting a lop-sided picture of what is taking place," he declared.

The spokesman conceded, however, that civilian casualties were "considerable", contending that such a toll was "unavoidable".

Aerodrome Damaged

In the course of two raids on Canton on Tuesday, a naval communiqué said yesterday morning, extensive damage was caused to the Tienho aerodrome, anti-aircraft batteries, government offices, and the Saichuen factory area.

Tuesday's first raid, staged early in the morning, was directed against the Tienho aerodrome, in a suburb of Canton, and the First Cartridge Manufacturing Plant.

At the aerodrome, military barracks, hangars and other military buildings were blown to bits, the communiqué claimed. At the cartridge manufacturing works, four buildings were said to have been demolished.

In the second raid, in the afternoon, bombs were dropped on the offices of the Municipal Government, the Saichuen factory area, and "archie" batteries at Shaokwan.

"Several" direct hits, the communiqué said, were scored on the municipal buildings.

Anti-Aircraft Guns Silenced

"More than 30" bombs also fell in Saichuen, "causing serious damage to various military objectives," the statement added.

Anti-aircraft guns in Shaokwan were silenced by aerial bombardment, according to the statement.

Throughout the two raids, the communiqué pointed out, intensive fire from anti-aircraft and machine guns was kept up from Chinese positions throughout the city. All of the planes, however, returned safely to their bases.

Five Liners Due This Weekend

Memnon Makes Port Today; Kulmerland, Cortellazzo And Alster Arriving

Dr. Kempe, Mr. Thomson and Pte. Turvey sailed for Hongkong in the ss. Shantung, yesterday.

Goodwill Envoy From Japan to U.S.

Will Attempt to Remove Misunderstanding

Tokyo, June 8.

Assigned to carry out a goodwill mission in America, Mr. Yusuke Tsurumi, member of Parliament, leading member of the Minseito Party and well-known publicist, will sail for the United States from Yokohama on June 10.

He will hold a series of round table talks with American leaders in an attempt to remove misunderstanding on the part of Americans in connection with the Sino-Japanese hostilities.

Mr. Tsurumi was the guest of honour at a farewell luncheon given by the new Foreign Minister, Gen. Kazushige Ugaki, this afternoon.—Domei.

Indo-China S. N. Co. Launch New Coaster

Wingsang Leaves Hongkong Dock; Taisang To Follow

Latest addition to Indo-China Steam Navigation Co.'s coastal fleet, the ss. Wingsang was launched one week ago in Hongkong. Nearly 200 guests including the Governor and Lady Northcote witnessed the ceremony performed by Mrs. D. F. Landale, wife of the Managing Director of Messrs Jardine Matheson & Co. The vessel and her sister ship, the ss. Taisang, which is to be launched one month later, are to be put on China coast service.

About 3,500 tons gross, ss. Wingsang is 310 ft. long, 48 ft. broad and 27 ft. deep and is a combined passenger and cargo vessel built to the highest specification of Lloyd's of London and conforming to the latest requirements of the Hongkong Government Marine Surveyor and the Simla rules.

Modern Equipment

Nine steel derricks handle the cargo through large hatches while five ton and one 20 ton lift are worked by silent running electric winches to which power is supplied by two steam generating sets each 115 k.w. at 220 volts d.c., and side cargo doors are also fitted.

Four crank triple expansion steam engine with Gotaverken Turbo compressor with three Scotch boilers working at 220 lb. per square inch pressure; drive the ship's single screw which is capable of giving the vessel the speed of well over 14 knots.

Thermotank airconditioning system is installed in all living quarters, while four 30 ft. steel lifeboats are carried by patent davits of the overframe type, to leave ample deck space free for passengers. Latest methods of piracy prevention were embodied in the construction while fire detecting and extinguishing systems are also installed.

Changping Quiet After Guerilla Raid

French Socialist Party Split

M. Marceau-Pivert's Extremists Decide to Leave M. Blum

Royan, June 8.

The 35th Congress of the Socialist Party ended in a split at 4 a.m. this morning, as the leftist group, led by M. André Marceau-Pivert, decided to leave the Party following the vote on a resolution submitted by the Socialist leader, M. Leon Blum.

Their withdrawal was based on the fact that the Party's policy was too much of a rightist one and not consonant with revolutionary principles.

The group, formerly called the "revolutionary leftists" took the name of the "Socialist Worker and Peasant Party." It consists of a few members mainly recruited from the Paris district. M. Marceau-Pivert's motion obtained 1,430 votes in the final congress poll against 4,892 for M. Leon Blum's motion, and 1,735 for M. Jean Zyromski's.

After the withdrawal of the former's group, which held mandates, the Administrative Committee of the Party will consist of 24 representatives of a tendency similar to M. Blum's, and nine representatives more inclined to follow M. Zyromski who is slightly more leftist than M. Blum.

Prior to the final vote, the Socialist leader, M. Blum declared that he could not condemn the present Government.

"New conditions must be created to permit a Socialist Government to come into power," he said. "But until then, be careful and think well. To take a stand would be to create a political situation which would render vain your propaganda and would bring a new majority into the Chamber."—Havas.

Chinese Doctor Charged With Armed Robbery

Ten Men Remanded at First Special District Court

Alleged to be members of two armed robber gangs, a Chinese doctor and nine other men were remanded on a writ of detention at the First Special District Court yesterday.

In the evidence it was stated that two men and one loaded revolver were seized at the Chung Chen lodging house on Foochow Road, by a party of detectives on Tuesday, and later a third person was arrested at 499 Robison Road, where a wooden imitation pistol was seized. Three more were arrested in the same district, and the alleged leader of the gang, a Chinese doctor named Tsen Nai-chee was apprehended in the same street. When questioned, he implicated his own brother, who was arrested at 24 Jessfield Road, where, hidden in the roof, were found one Mauser, one Demon pistol and 53 bullets.

An ex-convict, Ung Dah-koo-ts, and another Chinese, Ying Yah-ming were also arrested in another raid and remanded. One .32 Colt pistol and 11 rounds of ammunition were confiscated.

2nd Battalion Reception

Second Battalion French Colonial Infantry in China held a reception on Tuesday at Villa Ghisi, 319 Rte. Ghisi, on the occasion of their Battalion festival which is sponsored by M. Paul Emile Naggiar, French Ambassador to China, Vice-Admiral Le Bigot, Commander of the French Naval Forces in the Far East, Col. Jacomy, O. C. French forces in China, M. P. Auge, French Acting Consul-General, and Lieut.-Col. Perretier, O. C. French forces in Shanghai. The reception was originally arranged for Monday night but was postponed to Tuesday owing to bad weather.

Major A. Fabre, Battalion O. C. received the guests among whom were Vice-Admiral Le Bigot, numerous members of the diplomatic corps, naval and military officers, members of the French Municipality, and numerous friends of the Battalion, who were entertained with an elaborate programme which included numerous vocal numbers, sketches and a bull fight. Inspite of sultry weather the garden party proved to be a big success, and guests had a very enjoyable time throughout the evening.

Philippine Dictatorship Alleged by Wisconsin Congressman

Impeachment of Sr. Manuel Quezon Requested by Filipinos Seeking Immediate Autonomy

Washington, June 7.

Mr. Thomas O'Malley, author of the Philippines Independence Bill, told the United Press today that if only half the charges in his possession were true, there was a dictatorship in the Philippines attempting to crush efforts at gaining immediate independence.

The Democratic Representative of Wisconsin said that he intended to support the movement for immediate independence for the Philippines.

Mr. O'Malley said he knew that "thousands of dollars of the Philippine taxpayer's money is being spent in Washington to delay consideration of my bill for immediate independence."

He said he intended to continue to support the independence movement "as long as I remain in Congress."

"Mass Assassinations"

He revealed that he had received a cablegram from Manila in which prominent Filipinos asserted "because farming tenants hold lawful meetings for redress against maltreatments of the landlords, Sr. Manuel Quezon, President of the Philippines Commonwealth, is threatening mass assassinations with Government forces as tools."

The message requested intervention and asked for "impeachment" of Sr. Quezon. It suggested that "Congressional pressure can make him (Sr. Quezon) comply with the Constitution and halt his autocratic and dictatorial methods."

Commenting on the cablegram, Mr. O'Malley said that if only one-half of the charges made by the Filipino supporters of the immediate independence bill were true "there is a dictatorship in the Philippines disguised in the habiliments of a Constitutional Government."

Mr. O'Malley said the Legislative action resulting in General Emilio Aguinaldo's pension being reduced was due to insurrecto leader's advocacy for immediate independence.—United Press.

FUNERALS

Captain P. Y. Angus

There was a very large attendance at the Bubbling Well Cemetery Chapel yesterday afternoon when a cremation service was held for the late Captain Percy Y. Angus, marine surveyor, whose death occurred at the Country Hospital on Sunday. The chief mourners were the widow and niece. The Very Rev. A. C. S Trivett of the Cathedral was the officiating clergyman. In addition to the family wreaths, floral tributes were received from the following, among others:—

Mr. Ranald G. McDonald, Mr. Yu Ya-ching, Mrs. K. F. White, Mr. and Mrs. A. Eveleigh and family, Messrs. Scurr, Tanner & Co., Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Dorton, Messrs. Musso, Fischer and Wilhelm, Mr. Eric Lane, The New Zealand Insurance Co., Ltd., Mr. and Mrs. W. Brandt, Mr. Arturo Bonetta, Lloyd Triestino Line, The Foreign Staff Lloyd Triestino, Shanghai International Bridge Club, Messrs. Paulsen & Bayes-Davy, Cav. Giorgio F. Righini, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. C. Lonborg, A. Sing, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Anderson, Mr. H. Tomita, Messrs. Young & Co., Sydney, Shanghai Homing Pigeon Club, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Aitkan-Quack, General Electric Co. of China Ltd., The China Bird Co., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laloe, Dr. A. P. Luszig, Mr. H. Schall, Mrs. Langley and Charlie, Dr. and Mrs. T. K. M. Siao, American Engineering Corp. (China), Mr. and Mrs. A. Springborg, Mr. J. Galbraith, Mr. A. Palamountain, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lent, Mr. Robert C. Lent, etc.

The funeral arrangements were in the care of Messrs. Thomas MacDonald & Co.

Captain Percy Yoshida Angus was born on May 18, 1881, at Newcastle-on-Tyne. He went to sea at the age of 14, and served his apprenticeship in sailing ships. He was an officer in the A.V.S.N. and spent many years in pearling luggers along the Australian coast. He later joined the British India Co. and when employed by that company made his first visit to the Orient.

He joined Butterfield & Swire and sailed up and down the China Coast for many years, until he finally settled down ashore with a position of surveyor for Messrs. Paulsen & Bayes-Davy, of which firm he eventually became manager. In 1911 he formed his own company of Angus & Co., marine and cargo surveyors, and soon became prominent in the Shanghai shipping world. He was a member of the Shanghai Race Club, Central Club, and the Shanghai Homing Pigeon Club.

Mr. Franz Blaesner

In the presence of a number of close friends funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Hungjao Road Cemetery for the late Mr. Franz Blaesner, of Chinkiang. The Reverend E. Krueger, of the German Church, officiated. The deceased was resident in Shanghai for about three years until he went to Chinkiang early in 1936 to take up mission work in an orphanage, where he stayed until his death. He was en route to Shanghai, where he was coming for medical treatment, when he died last Sunday on board the Tai Chi Maru. His widow, Mrs. Dora Blaesner, was with her husband when he died and attended the funeral services yesterday afternoon. The deceased was sixty-eight years of age at the time of his death and enjoyed a large circle of friends both in Shanghai and in Chinkiang. The German Consulate was represented at the services by Mr. H. Gaetjen. Pallbearers were Messrs. W. Pflug, P. Wimmel, H. Gaetjen, F. C. Wehmeyer, P. Pauls and K. Rose. A beautiful cross of flowers from the widow was lowered on the coffin into the grave. Among others sending flowers were:—

Deutsches Generalkonsulat; Deutsche Gemeinde Schanghai; Miss M. C. Brown; Mr and Mrs. H. Beck; R. E. Oakeshott; Famille Willi Pflug; Chinkiang Friends; Misses Kesler and Nayler, Dr. and Mrs. Woods; Mr. and Mrs. Hale; Mrs. Paxton; Mr. and Mrs. Black; Mr. and Mrs. Farrior; Mr. O. # Queen Elizabeth Has Slight Cold

Princesses at Aldershot Tattoo Rehearsal

London, June 7.

Queen Elizabeth, it is officially stated today, is suffering from a slight cold and will, in consequence, remain indoors at the Royal Lodge, Windsor Great Park, as a precautionary measure.

Her Majesty, therefore, cancelled her engagement to go this afternoon with Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret to the daylight rehearsal of the Aldershot Tattoo.

The Princesses, however, attended with their governess and 60,000 school children gave them an enthusiastic reception when they arrived at the Rushmore arena.

It is emphasized that the Queen's cold is very slight.—Wireless through Reuter.

Concession Robbery

A gang of five Chinese, two of whom carried pistols, entered 451 Route Gaston Kahn, a Chinese house, yesterday, intimidated the occupants, and stole money and jewellery to the total value of $135. The robbers escaped without having fired any shots.

Osaka Businessmen Demand Intensified Hostilities Against Hankow

Resolution Urges Government to Accept China's "Challenge for War of Attrition"

Osaka, June 8.

Osaka businessmen yesterday joined the rapidly growing chorus of demands for an intensification of hostilities in China and for steps to check the assistance given to the Nationalist Government by foreign Powers.

The Osaka Association, comprising the city's leading businessmen, passed a resolution urging the Government to "accept China's challenge of a war of attrition." The resolution reminded the Government that "national sentiment is dissatisfied with a mere passive conduct of hostilities in China."

"Indirect Assistance"

Pointing to the direct and indirect assistance granted to China by Britain, France and the Soviet Union, the resolution asked the Government to take "resolute steps to make it impossible for these Powers to give further aid to the Nationalist Government."

"The minds of citizens of Osaka," the resolution read, "are too filled with a determination to win victory to pay consideration to anything else. We feel like soldiers just before carrying out a bayonet charge." For this reason, the statement added, the Government is urged to pay attention to the "all burning national indignation and sentiment."

The resolution will be handed to the Premier, Prince Ayamaro Konoye; Gen. Kazushige Ugaki, Foreign Minister; Lt.-Gen. Seishiro Itagaki, War Minister; Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, Navy Minister; Mr Seihin Ikeda, Minister of Finance and Commerce and Industry.

Messages to Ambassadors

The Association has also adopted resolutions addressed to Sir Robert Craigie, British Ambassador, and M. Arsene Henry, French Ambassador, reminding them that Japanese air raids on Canton, are "the result of the fortification" of that city.

If Britain and France sincerely sympathize with the people of Canton, the resolution said, they are requested to advise Gen. Chiang Kai-shek to "dismantle the fortifications" of the city of Rams, and to suspend their sales of arms to China, "which forms the root of all trouble."

Press Comment

Meanwhile, in Tokyo, the well-connected "Japan Times" attacked "certain Western Powers," which are "once again taking a far from flattering interest in Japan's methods of carrying on war in China."

Commenting on the British and French protests filed with the Japanese Government, the daily declared: "Emotion is the most dangerous guide in conducting international relations. We shall do our best to restrain natural indignation which we cannot help feeling against the implication of these protests that our gallant soldiers and airmen are not among the world's most chivalrous and generous warriors of the world."—Domei.

U.S. Navy Building Funds Provided

Il Duce's Newspaper Attacks Washington Foreign Policy

Washington, June 7.

After last-minute minor revisions, the House Appropriations Committee today sent the U.S.$274,233,221 Navy Deficiency Bill, carrying funds to start the greatest fleet in American history, to the floor. The Bill may possibly reach the Senate on Thursday.

The Bill includes U.S.$3,375,000 for the Navy to purchase four-engine patrol planes during the next fiscal year. It also has a total of U.S.$41,775,167 earmarked for naval purposes, which includes U.S.$35,802,000 for President Roosevelt's shipbuilding programme.

The Bill provides U.S.$5,000,000 to start construction of two battleships, two light cruisers, seven auxiliary vessels and eight experimental mosquito fleet boats.

The House Appropriations Committee eliminated the Administration's recommendation for funds to start work on a dirigible.

Military Appropriation

The Senate today approved of the Conference Committee's report on the U.S.$459,401,254 Military Appropriation Bill and sent it to President Roosevelt for signing.—United Press.

Italian Press Attack

Rome, June 7.

A violent attack against the foreign policy of the United States was launched today in the "Popolo d'Italia," Milan newspaper founded by Signor Benito Mussolini.

This news organ points particularly to the speech made recently by the U.S. Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull, who condemned aggression and international anarchy.

It stresses the fact that next year in spring, the United States will be concentrating the whole of their Navy in the Atlantic Ocean, where the manœuvres will take place near the Equator and close to the South American coasts.

This concentration of naval might constitutes a warning to dictatorships, the "Popolo d'Italia' writes, and adds, "The United States would do better to put into practice another theme consisting of a guarantee of their own children's security, which is the most elementary principle of civilization. We advise them to guarantee their own internal peace rather than that they should try to humanize others' warfare."

The 1939 U.S. naval manœuvres are to be carried out on Problem No. 20 which aims to place the Navy Department in a position "to face any situation arising from any European crisis."—Havas.

Rickshaw Kills Woman

A Chinese woman, about 55 years old, was killed by a public rickshaw in Avenue Haig yesterday morning. The woman was struck by the vehicle while walking, shortly before 9 o'clock. She was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where she died after admission.

Editors of German Papers Examined

Berlin, June 8.

Any candidate for the editorship of a German paper will henceforth be judged from a "political viewpoint" before he is definitely inscribed in the list of German editors belonging to the German Press Syndicate.

The examination will be by the leader of the Nazi district in which he resides. The police will also have to declare the aspirant as of good morals and living.

The new decision was taken by Dr. Paul Goebbels, Reich Propaganda Minister.—Havas.

"Most Accurate Examination Yet Devised" says leading English Physician
May 27, 1938.
Dear Dr. Rakusen,
The glasses which you have prescribed for me, as also those for members of my family, have proved most satisfactory and I wish to express my thanks to you. Your methods of examination are undoubtedly the most accurate yet devised. All my patients referred to you have always been most satisfied with their glasses. I have been particularly favourably impressed with your treatment of myopia in young people.
Yours sincerely,

THE exhibition of paintings by Mr. C. Kluge at the Alliance Francaise, 11 Route Vallon, is to be continued till Sunday, June 12 inclusive.

THERE will be a celebration of the Holy Communion in the Bubbling Well Chapel this morning at 10.30 o'clock.

AMONG vessels which left this port yesterday were H.M.S. Adventure, H.M.S. Decoy and U.S.S. Tulsa, The first two sailing in the morning while the third left in the afternoon.

TELEGRAPH offices in four of the Japanese occupied cities, Shanghai, Soochow, Nanking and Hangchow, have been reopened to business under Japanese management, states a report to the "Life Daily News."

MR. Chang Kuo, a member of the Fukien Provincial Government, has been appointed to the concurrent post of Director of the Land Administration Bureau in Fukien, says a report to the "Standard."

LORD Stanley, Secretary of State for the Dominions, has received and accepted an invitation from the president and directors of the Canadian National Exhibition, to open the exhibition at Toronto on August 25.

THE Shanghai Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is pleased to announce that the proceeds from the Bridge/Mahjongg Party held on June 3 amounted to $358.86, which sum has been placed to its general funds.

MGR. Yu Pin, Vicar Apostolic of Nanking, will leave Marseilles for China on Friday aboard the French vessel, Jean Laborde. Mgr. Yu Pin has been in Europe several months and attended the Eucharistic Congress which closed in Budapest recently.

The King has granted to Mr. William Henry Donald, adviser to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek Royal licence and authority to wear the Grand Blue Cordon of the Order of the Brilliant Jade conferred upon him by the President of the National Government of the Republic of China.

DAIREN Kisen Kaisha annunce that hereafter passengers travelling to Tientsin, Dairen and beyond from Shanghai are requested by the Quarantine Authorities in Tientsin and Dairen to be in possession of a cholera inoculation certificate of the latest date. No passage ticket will be issued without presentation of the above Certificate.

THE Department of Reconstruction of the Shensi Provincial Government has drawn up plans for the adjustment of handicraft industries in various districts of the province, says a message to the "Sin Wan Pao." Those plans, it is reported, will shortly be submitted to the Provincial Government for approval.

THE Executive Yuan, at a meeting held on Tuesday, passed a resolution authorizing the Ministry of Economics to handle affairs touching China's technical co-operation with the League of Nations, states a dispatch to the "Sin Wan Pao." The meeting was presided over by the Vice-President of the Yuan, General Chang Chun.

THE wreckage of the two Japanese naval 'planes which were shot down by the Chinese air force in the aerial battle over Hukow, near Nanchang, on June 1, have been found, says a dispatch to the "Standard." One of these, it is reported, crashed at Hsinkang in Kiang district, and the other at Chongchiaying in Shusung. The occupants of both machines were killed.

MESSRS. Wu Ching-po and Wang Chih-jen, members of the Szechuen and Sikang Provincial Administrations, respectively will shortly meet in a conference for a new delimitation of the borders between the two provinces, says a message to the "Sin Wan Pao." The delimitation plan, suggested by the latter administration, is understood to have been approved by the Central authorities.

COMMODITY prices in the local market continue to soar owing to the recent shrinkage of the exchange value of the Chinese currency and the disruption in the communications between this city and the interior, states a message to the "Morning Leader." The upward price movement is stated to have presented a grave problem of livelihood to the war refugees who have flocked into Shanghai from inland districts.

THE Reich's population today totals 3,144,233, the "Neues Volk" review, claims in an article estimating the country's populace. This estimate is of especial interest now because the official census which was due on May 17, has been postponed to 1939 on account of the Anschluss. The "Neues Volk's" estimate falls below official beliefs, as rulers of the Reich and the Press generally spoke of the population as numbering about 75,000,000.

ALTHOUGH the response to the appeal of the Shanghai International Red Cross for refugee water supply has been very encouraging, twenty-six camps today are still without water supply facilities. In view of the approach of warm weather, it is imperative that such camps be provided with drinking water at once. Up to June 4 a total of $2,196.47 has been contributed to the S.I.R.C. Water supply Fund. Further donations will be appreciated so that every refugee will have access to water for drinking and other purposes.

MR. Chikayuki Akagi, appointed Special Deputy Commissioner of the Shanghai Municipal Police on May 20, was on Tuesday night honoured at a reception given by leading local Japanese civic and business organizations. Simultaneously, a farewell was paid to Superintendent Toshi Kasumi, who is retiring from the S.M.P. after 22 years' service. On behalf of the Japanese Community here, Mr. Masusaburo Amano, President of the Japanese Residents' Corporation, presented Superintendent Kasumi with a valuable gift. The reception, held at the Japanese Club, was sponsored by the Japanese Residents' Corporation, the Japanese Cotton Millowners' Association in China, the Federation of Japanese Amalgamated Street Unions, the Shanghai Japanese Chamber of Commerce and Industry and Japanese officials of the S.M.P.

Refugee Maternity Centre Opens

First Baby Born Monday; Project is Sponsored by Local Organizations

The Shanghai Refugees Maternity Centre,—a project jointly sponsored by a number of local organizations including the Shanghai International Red Cross, the International Relief Committee and the Salvation Army—received its first patients on June 6. At noon time that day the first refugee baby made his appearance. Reports state that as a tribute to the promotional efforts made by Dr. Amos Wong, the boy will be named Amos.

The Centre is situated at 110 Robison Road where a large residential building has just been repaired and cleaned for use as a maternity hospital, while on the adjacent lot, four mat-shed camps have been erected to house the relatives and children of the refugee-mothers. The hospital has 100 beds, but eventually will be prepared to accommodate 200 patients.

Dr. Beatie of the Seventh Day Adventist Mission is the superintendent and Miss Follette of the same mission as chief of its nursing staff. Many of the medical equipments and appliances for the Centre are loaned by the Shanghai Sanitarium.

Clubs' Help

The project has been made possible chiefly through the generous support given by the Chinese Women's Club of Shanghai. Several weeks ago, when the need for a maternity hospital for refugees was felt the Chinese Women's Club donated a sum of $1,000 for the initial expenses. Subsequently, the Club agreed to pay for the budget of the Centre for the first month, amounting to $3,000. Donations supporting this maternity project have also been received from many individuals and local organizations such as the Y's Men's Club, the Amity Lodge, and the St. John's University Christian Service League. More funds will be needed to finance this important relief project, and a campaign will soon be launched by the committee of management.

The Shanghai International Red Cross will provide basic food for the patients and the refugees at the Centre, besides giving a portion of the funds required for building the mat-sheds. Several local drug stores and firms have already promised to donate such useful articles as linen, cotton and soap.

It is learned that of the 100,000 war refugees now confined in some 130 camps in Shanghai, no less than 33 per cent. are women. Thousands of these women are maternity cases, and need urgent medical attention, and it is believed that the Centre will now greatly relieve the local hospital situation.

Management

The Centre is managed by a committee composed of the following: Dr. J. E. Baker, ex-officio, Mrs. Y. Y. Tsu, chairman, Mrs. K. T. Kuo, secretary, Brigadier B. Morris, vice-chairman, Mr. John Wei, treasurer, Mrs. Ernest Tso, representing the Chinese Women's Club, Mrs. J. H. Sun, National Y.W.C.A.; Miss T. Y. Zia, Shanghai Y.W.C.A.; Mrs. R. R. Johnson, Child Welfare Association; Mrs. A. L. Dawson, Amity Ladies Circle; Mr. K. Y. Li, the International Relief Committee; Mr. S. H. Chang, Shanghai Emergency Relief Society; Mr. N. B. Doodha and Mr. C. H. Lowe, the Shanghai International Red Cross; Mr. Lewis Mason, Shanghai Y's Men's Club; Dr. J. H. Jordan, S.M.C. Public Health Department; Dr. T. F. Huang, Chinese Medical Association; Dr. L. Butka, Shanghai Sanitarium; and Mrs. Carrie Lu Lei, Public Health Service.

Japanese to See New Hollywood Films

"Barter" Deposit Method Of Payment Arranged

Tokyo, June 8.

Japan's ardent film-goers, yearning for the sight of the latest American "flickers," today hailed the Government's decision to permit conditionally the importation of 200 of Hollywood's latest masterpieces.

The permission, which ends a nine-month "famine," was granted on the condition that the producers deposit Y.3,000,000, including royalties payable to Hollywood's studios, at the San Francisco branch of the Yokohama Specie Bank. The money is to remain at the Bank for three years and will draw no interest.—Domei.

Went to Spain After Anglo-Italian Pact

Barcelona, June 7.

Since 1936 the Republicans have captured 144 Nationalist airmen and of these 54 are Italians, 46 Germans and 44 Spaniards, a press communique issued today announces.

One Italian aviator, Giuseppe Bordignani, was arrested only recently when he erroneously landed on the Guadalajara aerodrome. According to information here, he says he left Genoa on April 14 with several other Fascist officers and landed in Seville on April 19, three days after the signature of the Anglo-Italian Accord.

He is said to have given information that all anti-aircraft batteries on airfields used by Italian planes, are manned by Italians. "He also asserted that all Italian craft are assembled in Seville," authoritative Republican quarters declare.—Havas.

Volcano Erupts, Thousands Flee

Manila, June 8.

Evacuation of Legaspi and surrounding Philippine villages was resumed today when Mount Mayon again began belching smoke and cinders and streams of molten lava near the base of the perfectly shaped volcano whose last serious eruption occurred in 1928.

Apparently worried, Father Miguel Selga, Director of the Weather Bureau, advised immediate evacuation. He believed, however, there would be no catastrophic explosion.

It was estimated that already more than 20,000 Filipinos have fled for safety to the hills where refugee camps have been set up. No casualties and little property damage had occurred from the minor eruptions of the past few days. —United Press.

Cholera Spreads In Shanghai

Epidemic Stage, However, Not Reached in Foreign Areas; Many Inoculated

Cholera is still on a slow increase in Shanghai but is epidemic only in the general area, it was learned yesterday from public health officials. In the International Settlement and the French Concession the disease, while prevalent, has not reached the epidemic stage. It is significant that foreigners so far have been spared, there having been only one foreign suspected case to date that of a Russian. This case, it is understood, has not been definitely verified.

Altogether, the statistics available at this time regarding the spread of cholera are liable to be misleading owing to the fact that it is difficult during the early part of the disease to distinguish between genuine and pseudo cases. While last week 109 cases were reported in the whole Shanghai area, only 43 of these could be verified as actual cholera cases. The Settlement last week had forty cases notified, but not enough of these have been verified to state that cholera is epidemic in the Settlement The health authorities consider that 21 cases per week in the Settlement constitute an epidemic. This number, as far as proved cases are concerned, has not been reached yet. The pseudo cases are forms of diarrhoea and other intestinal diseases.

Many Inoculations

Inoculations against cholera are being given in large numbers, comparing very favourably with last year's figures. Thus, in the Settlement, 138,168 injections of this kind had been administered up to June 4. This compares with 51,682 inoculations during the corresponding period last year.

The present spread of cholera, it appears, started from a focal point near Siccawei. The disease is now present in the Settlement both south and north of the Soochow Creek, and in the French Concession.

Hospital Accommodation

On the recommendation of the Commissioner of Public Health, the Municipal Council has agreed to the erection of two new matshed wards, to be used as temporary hospital accommodation, at the Pakhoi Road temporary Chinese Isolation Hospital. The Commissioner of Public Health reports that as all the isolation hospitals are full and cholera has appeared, the erection of these matsheds is urgently necessary.

Czech Situation Now Very Much Calmer

Prague Withdraws Troops From Sudeten Regions

London, June 8.

Rather good progress has been recorded in the Czech-Sudeten negotiations recently initiated, and hopes are now held that the parleys will enter the active stage before the end of the municipal elections next Sunday, reports from Prague claim today.

It is anticipated that Prague will proceed with the gradual withdrawal of troops from the Sudeten districts, and by Sunday about 100,000 are expected to be demobilized. Nevertheless, diplomats expect the German Press to continue its campaign against Czechoslovakia to the end of the elections, aiming to influence the voters and strengthen the Sudetens' position for their conversations with Prague.

In general, public sentiment here appears to be that the present situation is devoid of any immediate danger.

Meanwhile, M. Jan Garrigue Masaryk, Czech Minister here, returned yesterday after his ten days' visit to Prague. It is reported that he will see the Foreign Secretary, Lord Halifax, either today or tomorrow.—Havas.

THE authorities in Rome are now banning the export of foodstuffs from the country, keeping especially strict watch over the transport of flour, cereals and vegetables. Their aim is apparently to establish a reserve of products for home consumption. During the past fortnight, bread sold to the public contained only 20 per cent. of wheat flour, therefore being of inferior quality.

New Deal Gets First Big Defeat In Iowa State Primaries

Senator Gillette Renominated in Heavy Vote Over Mr. Wearin, Endorsed by Administration

Des Moines, Ia., June 7.

THE New Deal suffered its first major defeat in the state primary elections here today when Senator Guy M. Gillette, staunch opponent of many of the Roosevelt Administration policies, won his renomination on the Democratic ticket in a sweeping victory over Mr. Otha D. Wearin.

Mr. Wearin, Democratic Representative seeking the Senate nomination with the endorsement of the Administration, conceded his defeat late tonight after studying returns from 1,556 of the state's 2,477 precincts which gave him only 28,403 votes against 49,792 for Senator Gillette.

The election climaxed one of the most bitter primary campaigns in Iowa's history, with leading Administration figures throwing their full influence behind Mr. Wearin in an attempt to carry the state for the President. Iowa was regarded as a representative mid-west state which would give the first indication of the Administration's present strength in the Mississippi Valley.

Mr. Wearin received the unqualified endorsement of Mr. Harry H. Hopkins, Federal Emergency Relief Administrator, close adviser of the President and former Iowa resident. His defeat was regarded as reflecting the state's opposition to the President's favourite bills, court reform and governmental reorganization, both of which Senator Gillette opposed.

Republican Revival Seen

Former Senator Lester Dickinson tonight appeared to be Senator Gillette's Republican opponent in the November elections for the Senate seat. Mr. Dickinson was conceded victory by his opponent in the Republican primaries, Mr. Lloyd Thurston, after unofficial returns from 1,556 precincts gave the former Iowa Senator a lead of 93,360 to 69,242.

Voting gained impetus late in the day after early showers had kept many voters from the polls.

Mr. Ed Birmingham, Democratic State Chairman, said scores of his workers had reported that nominal Republicans were voting the Roosevelt ticket. Republican leaders, however, quickly denied the allegation.

Observers note that total Republican votes exceeded total Democratic votes in early returns, indicating that Iowa might return to its traditional role as a strong Republican state causing increased concern among Administration leaders.—United Press.

Leaders Free to Give Views

Washington, June 7.

President Roosevelt today defended the right of Mr. Harry L. Hopkins, Federal Emergency Relief Administrator, and any other officials to express their views in political contests in the states of which they are natives.

Several Senators, opposed to the President's judicial and government reorganization bills and seeking renomination in the current primaries, were responsible for the President's outburst to the press. They alleged that Mr. Hopkins and other close advisers of the President had endorsed candidates opposing present Democratic Senators who had voted against Roosevelt legislation.

The President's statement followed the renomination of Senator Guy M. Gillette in the Iowa primaries.

Striking at the newspaper and congressional criticism which said that Mr. Hopkins had sought to "play politics with human misery," President Roosevelt described the agitation as a great deal of smoke.

The President said Mr. Hopkins had merely availed himself of the prerogative of every citizen.

Earlier, Mr. Hopkins made a statement that the defeat of Mr. Wearin refuted the criticisms and proved that the W.P.A. workers had voted as they pleased. "I sincerely hope Mr. Gillette will be returned to Senate," he said.

Mr. James A. Farley, National Democratic Chairman and Postmaster General, today telegraphed his congratulations to Senator Gillette after a conference at the White House. He said the Iowa primary elections were not discussed at the conference.

Mr. James Roosevelt, son of the President and his secretary also wired his congratulations to Senator Gillette.—United Press.

Cash Kidnapper Hunt to Cost $50,000

President Roosevelt Seeks Appropriation

Washington, June 8.

President Roosevelt has asked Congress for a special appropriation of $50,000 to be used for tracing the kidnappers of five-year-old "Skeegie" Cash, son of Mr. James Cash, wealthy Miami oil dealer.

The baby was abducted from his cot on May 29. His father subsequently paid the $10,000 demanded as ransom, but the boy was never returned.

A nation-wide search, in which G-men, 400 American Legionaries, 2,000 volunteers, motorboats, divers and private and naval aeroplanes all cooperated, failed to produce any trace of the missing child or his kidnappers.

After a week's intensive hunt, all hope of finding the boy alive was abandoned.—Reuter.

West Hongkew Robbery

A large haul was made by a gang of four robbers in daylight yesterday morning at a Chinese house, No. 18, Lane 615, Tiendong Road. At the points of three pistols, they intimidated the occupants and collected various property to the total value of $600. They escaped without having fired any shots. West Hongkew Station detectives are investigating the case.

Mr. "Pat" O'Hara Fined Y.50 in Yokohama

Photographic Apparatus Returned by Court

Yokohama, June 8.

After several sessions in the procurator's court, Mr. Frederick "Pat" O'Hara, resident secretary for Japan of the Liverpool and London Globe Insurance Company, was fined Y.50, on the ground of having violated the Fortified Zone Law in filming scenery near Yokohama.

Mr. O'Hara's photographic apparatus was returned to him.

On May 4, Mr. O'Hara was arrested by the Japanese police on a charge of violating the Military and Naval Secrets Protection Law. Following his arrest, his correspondence, road maps, film and photographic apparatus were seized by Yokohama detectives.

On May 16, Mr. O'Hara, an Irishman from Liverpool whose hobbies are yachting, motoring and photography, was released.—Reuter.

Lou Ambers Held to Draw

World Lightweight Champion Encounters Stiff Opposition to Surprise of Crowd

Los Angeles, June 7.

BABY Arizmendi, hard-socking Mexican, held Lou Ambers, world lightweight champion, to a draw tonight in ten sizzling rounds of a non-title bout. The tough little Mexican not only created an upset but became the "upset king" of the year, for some three months ago he lost narrowly on decision to Henry Armstrong, world welterweight and featherweight champion.

There was not a single knockdown scored in any of the ten rounds, but the bout was packed with action.

The two battlers set a furious pace and their terific two-fished flurries had the spectators on their feet time and again.

Ambers staged a good recovery after taking the hardest blow of the battle in the second round.

Perfect Straight Right

Lashing out with a perfect straight right to the jaw, Arizmendi rocked the American scrapper who clinched and hung on to avoid crashing to the canvas.

The lightweight champion came back strongly in the third canto and for the remainder of the battle struck out powerfully with both hands.

Ambers finished without a mark on his face or body while the Mexican bled from gashes over both eyes but otherwise he was in good condition.

Each weiighed 136 pounds.

"I have no alibi," "Herkimer Lou" said after the fight. "I just couldnt' get started."

Ambers, who is to defend his title against Armstrong on July 26, entered the ring as 7-4 favourite.—United Press.

French Tennis

Paris, June 7.

In the French international tennis championships the last eight competitors left in the ladies event are Goldschmidt, Rollin, Henrotin, Landry, Halff, Pannetier, Stevenson and Mathieu.

Today's results in the ladies singles were: Goldschmidt beat Wynne 6-0, 6-3, Rollin beat Whitmarsh 6-3, 6-1, Landry beat Hopman 6-1, 6-2, Halff beat Weivers 7-5, 6-4 and Stevenson beat Barbier 6-3, 6-4.—Trans-Ocean.

U.S. Open Golf Title Play Begins Soon

Guldahl, Revolta Reigning Favourites at Present

Denver, June 7.

Ralph Guldahl, titleholder, and Johnny Revolta reigned as leading favourites today to capture the U.S. National Open Golf Championship which starts here Friday. Each was a 7-1 favourite.

Guldahl, scoring consistently well in practice, was in splendid condition. Revolta, however, seemed overfavoured in view of his infected finger which not only prevented him from practising but which may force him to withdraw.

Sam Snead, probably the most consistent of all professional golfers during the past season, Gene Sarazen, veteran champion, Paul Runyan and Harry Cooper were quoted as 8-1 favourites.

Snead's price was expected to shorten because of considerable out of town support.

Virtually all the field went around in 170 in practices but few actually kept their scores and often played two-ball foursomes. Complaints over the unfairness of the course were subsiding and most of the golfers were singing its praises.—United Press.

Another Test Player Injured

Walker Unable to Play For Six Weeks

SPECIAL TO THE "N.C.D.N."

London, June 8.

Making the third Test player to be "crocked" in the course of a few days, Walker, the Australian wicketkeeper, will be unable to play for six weeks.

An X-ray examination of Walker's finger, damaged in the Australians' match against Essex, disclosed a fracture, making it impossible for him to continue playing for the time being.

The other two men who were compelled to retire temporarily owing to injuries were Hardstaff, a probable member of the English Test team, who will be unable to play in the first Test match owing to injuries to his hand, and J. C. Clay, of Glamorgan, who withdrew from the English Test team owing to leg trouble.—Reuter.

German Air Feats

Berlin, June 7.

The well-known German pilot Major General Ernst Udet flying a new Heinkel pursuit plane reached a speed of 402.1 miles an hour on a 100-kilometre stretch near Rostock.

The four-engined Junkers plane, Der Grosse Dessauer, reached an altitude of 9312 metres with an additional load of 5,000 kilograms. Both planes had Daimler-Benz engines.—Transocean.

The Wightman Cup matches are to begin tomorrow, the radio broadcast commentary on the play beginning at 10.15 p.m. (Shanghai time). Miss Marbie recently won the St. George's Hill singles title and is reported to be in top form.*

Chicago Cubs Break Loose to Trounce Giants Again

Jimmy Ripple, Mel Ott Drive Home Runs; Chisox Whip Yankees; Foxx Wields Heavy Bat

New York, June 7.

BREAKING loose in the seventh inning, the Chicago Cubs trounced the New York Giants, 4-2, in the opening tussle of their three-game series today to stretch their lead in the National League to one and one-half games.

Hopes of the Terrymen of overtaking the Bruins, however, were not completely shattered despite the setback. If the Giants are able to flash their early season winning form and garner the next two games from the Bruins they will climb to the top again, leading by half-a-game.

Billy Lee held the Terrymen well in check, yielding seven scratchy bingles which were converted in two runs, the result of two four-baggers by Jimmy Ripple and Mel Ott.

The Bruins fared better at the offerings of Cliff Melton and Dick Coffman, touching them for eleven hits that resulted in four markers.

With neither team showing much progress in the effort to obtain a safe lead, the Cubs spurted in the seventh stanza and hung up three runs to march on to victory.

Bill Herman and Joe Marty also banged out a four-ply blow each for the Bruins.

Slit Sleeve Argument

Coming through with four runs in the fifth canto, the Brooklyn Doggers skimmed a win from the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-6, in the only other National League tilt of the day. Two other games were postponed because of rain.

Although the Cleveland Indians triumphed over the Boston Red Sox, 7-5, the New York Yankees ran foul of the Chicago White Sox and lost, 8-5.

The American League bill was marked by an argument between Johnny Allen and the umpire resulting in the youthful hurler, who was robbed of a world record in the last game of season last year, quitting the diamond and running into a US$250 fine.

The star Indian twirler apparently exchanged hot words with the ump over the slit undershirt sleeve league ruling.

He walked off the mound in the second and a US$250 fine was clamped on him by Manager O'Neill.

Allen, it was believed, attempted to copy the stunt first started by Dizzy Vance in fraying the sleeve of his throwing arm, thus causing the batters difficulty in following his movements.

Foxx Homers Again

Taking the lead in the first frame when they scored two runs, the Tribe continued to remain ahead and won, 7-5, against the Beantowners. Jimmy Foxx homered for the losers.

Garnering four markers in the second stanza, the Chisox never relinquished their lead and finished ahead of the Ruppert Rifles, 8-5.

Thornton Lee, who hurled the White Sox to victory, also did good work with the bat, hoisting a four-bagger.

Ray Radcliff was the outstanding batter, knocking out a double and two singles in three trips to the plate for the Chicagoans.

The cellarite St. Louis Browns created an upset by downing the powerful Washington Senators, 11-8, coming through with the three winning markers in an eighth-inning spurt.

Tigers' Victory

Harland Clift led the Brown attack, driving in five men after crashing out two doubles and two singles in five times at bat.

Although each of the teams scored a run in the ninth frame, the Detroit Tigers were ahead before the final stanza and thus finished winners against the Philadelphia Athletics, 5-4.

Rudy York, star catcher for the Bengals, clouted out the only home run of the game.

Seventh Wonder Wins Royal Standard

SPECIAL TO THE "N.C.D.N."

London, June 8.

Seventh Wonder, who was scratched at the last minute from the Derby last week, won the Royal Standard Stakes at Manchester today over a distance of a mile and two furlongs.

The colt beat Actuality by half a length, which in turn was a short head in front of Fairing.

Only six started, and the betting was: 13-8 Seventh Wonder; 3-1 Actuality and 5-1 Fairing.—Reuter.

Giants Gain in Trade

Cincinnati, June 6.

The Cincinnati Reds today traded Alex Kampouris, heavy-hitting infielder, to the New York Giants for Wally Berger, outfielder. No cash was involved.

The deal proved a great puzzle to sports scribes since it would undoubtedly strengthen the chances of the Terrymen in the race for the pennant but would not help the Redlegs.—United Press.

Delaney Beats Dano

Stockton, June 7.

Chick Delaney of San Francisco beat Pablo Dano of Manila, former leading bantamweight, on points at the end of a ten-round bout tonight. Delaney weighed in at 121 pounds and Dano at 122.—United Press.

Outright Victories In 7 Matches

Hammond Knocks 140 Not Out; 11 Centuries in 1st Class Cricket

London, June 7.

Outright victories were scored in seven out of the eight first-class cricket matches concluded today, while in the remaining game Worcester beat Glamorgan on the first innings.

The norrowest victory was scored at Nottingham, where Surrey beat Notts by only 11 runs.

Other results: Warwick beat Derby by four wickets; Somerset beat Gloucester by one wicket; Yorkshire beat Lancashire by eight wickets; The Free Foresters beat Oxford by five wickets; Middlesex beat Sussex by ten wickets; and Hampshire beat Kent by eight wickets.

Eleven centuries were scored, the successful batsmen being:—

Hammond (Gloucester) 140 not out; Robins (Middlesex) 157; Dollery (Warwick) 134 not out; Fagg (Kent) 128; Martin (Worcester) 128 not out; Lomas (Oxford) 124; Buckingham (Warwick) 124; Gibbons (Worcester) 113 not out; Rhodes (Derby) 107 not out; Creese (Hampshire) 103; Fishlock (Surrey) 101.

Detailed Results

At Derby—Warwick beat Derby by four wickets. Derby 124 and 294 (Rhodes 107 not out). Warwick 203 (Copson 5 for 51) and 311 for 6 (Buckingham 124, Dollery 134 not out).

At Taunton—Somerset beat Gloucester by one wicket. Gloucester 221 and 338 for 7 declared (Hammond 140 not out). Somerset 276 and 284 for 9.

At Worceester—Worcester beat Glamorgan on the first innings. Worcester 332 (Clay 5 for 101) and 318 for 3 declared (Gibbons 113 not out, Martin 126 not out). Glamorgan 235 (Crisp 5 for 62) and 281 for 9.

At Bradford—Yorkshire beat Lancashire by eight wickets. Lancashire 232 and 138 (Verity 6 for 49). Yorkshire 273 and 53 for 2.

At Oxford—The Free Foresters beat Oxford by five wickets. Oxford 286 (Lomas 124. Meyer 5 for 63) and 97 (Marriott 5 for 40, Meyer 4 for 44). The Free Foresters 208 and 180 for 5 (Scott 99, Whitehouse 5 for 33).

Substitute for Olympic Games Wanted by U.S. Coach

Present Olympics Threaten to Become Enmeshed In National Political Rivalries

BY JACK CUDDY

Philadelphia, May 18.

LAWSON Robertson, coach of the last four American Olympic track and field teams, suggests that a biennial athletic competition among the United States, the Commonwealth of the British Empire, France and the Scandinavian countries be substituted for the Olympic Games.

Robertson of Pennsylvania U. believes that competitions every two years among the above named countries would serve better the cause of international athletics than the Olympics which threaten to become enmeshed in national rivalries.

"The 1936 games in Germany and those planned for Japan in '40 leave a taste in my mouth," Robertson said in an exclusive interview. "They smack of diplomatic intrigue rather than sportsmanship."

If Coach Robertson felt this way about the modern Olympics, would he accept the post of track and field pilot again, if named for the job?

U.S. Team Need Help

"Certainly I would," said the 54-year-old mentor. "I would be glad to assist the 1940 team, because I'm sure the United States squad will need plenty of help and supervision."

What did he mean by that?

"I mean that the American team—at least the track and field representation—probably will be beaten at Tokyo for the first time since the United States entered Olympic competition in 1896. Our track and field strength, at least, may be weakened considerably by Japan's change of the dates for the games. They have set them Sept. 21-Oct. 6. That means American squads could not return home until about Nov. 1, and that many college athletes might be unable to compete. Remember, about sixty per cent. of our recent track and field men have been college undergraduates.

Financial Difficulties

"When you consider the attitude of many university officials towards sports, you can appreciate that a number of college athletes might not be given special permission to make the long trip to Tokyo and be absent from their studies during much of the autumn semester in 1940."

In addition to the collegiate handicaps Coach Robertson also emphasized the possible difficulty of financing a complete United States representation in Japan. "You recall the difficulties we had raising funds for the representation that went to Berlin after the anti-Nazi hue and cry," he said. "Well, it seems to me that there is considerable pro-Chinese sympathy in our country right now. Our funds are raised by public subscription. This is one of the few countries in which the Government gives no Olympic subsidy. If our people do not contribute, we do not get the necessary funds."

Robertson warned also that, with 57 countries competing in the Olympics, with international bickerings increasing, and with the site of the games being moved farther and farther away from the centres of athletic population, the games were becoming too unwieldy for concentration on the athletics.

Melbourne Next?

"I understand that Melbourne, Australia, is campaigning now to have the Olympics held there in 1944," he said.

Whether we have Olympics or biennial games among a few chosen countries, Robertson believes the contests should always be held in a city near the centres of athletic population, preferably Athens, Greece, cradle of Olympiads.

He prefers biennial competitions instead of the quadrennial Olympic Games, because he believes that many fine athletes reach their peaks and fade during the four-year interim; then fail to make a team—the great goal of all amateur athletes. And he prefers competition among the United States, Britain, France and the Scandinavian countries because these nations seldom are involved in international disputes and "have a clearer understanding of Olympic ideals."

Robertson said many prominent Englishmen favour this type of competition. Brig.-Gen A. C. Critchley, well-known British sportsman and promoter of London's famous Wembley Stadium, discussed this proposition thoroughly with Robertson during the Berlin Games.—United Press.

Local Relay Carnival

At a meeting held by the Shanghai Track and Field Association (International) yesterday evening at the Foreign Y.M.C.A. it was decided that the proposed Relay Carnival which was originally planned to take place this Saturday, June 11, be postponed until the middle of October.

Details in regard to the carrying out of Shanghai's first sports carnival are in the hands of Lt. May, athletic officer of the Durham Light Infantry. It was found that primarily because of a lack of adequate preparation, concerning entries and the events to be listed for competition, the coming meeting would have to be postponed. The approach of hot weather is another reason.

Huge Planes Make Maiden Trips

Successful Trial Flights In U.S. of Mammoth Land and Sea Craft

Seattle, June 7.

One of the mightiest aeroplanes ever built—a 41-ton, 74-passenger clipper ship—rose from the waters of Elliot Bay today on its maiden flight and landed safely 38 minutes later on Lake Washington.

The mammoth airship, piloted by Mr. Edmund T. Allen, was built by Boeing Aircraft Company here for Pan American Airways for use on either the trans-Pacific or trans-Atlantic service. Five persons, including crew and observers, accompanied the pilot on the test flight.

The giant express airliner carries a capacity load of 74 passengers, a crew of eight and two and a half tons of cargo, and has a cruising range of 5,000 miles.

Pan American officials explained that the new "Super-Clipper" was twice the size of the Sikorsky flying boats which blazed air routes to South America and across the Pacific, and one and a half times as big as the four-motor Martin Clipper planes used in trans-Pacific flights.

Like Fiction

A description of the flying boat reads like fiction. It is equipped with sleeping quarters and de luxe cabins, with Pullman berths in the wings and a lounge and dining room. The cabins have hot and cold running water. A galley enables stewards to serve regular meals.

The aeroplane has three decks—a "bridge deck" for flying officers, a main deck for passengers with ramps extending into the wings and a cargo hold below, divided into water-tight compartments running the length of the ship.

Its fuel tanks alone carry fifteen tons of gasolene and oil, and the double-row fourteen cylinder "Cyclone" motors are connected with the operating bridge by catwalks through the wings. It is believed the first time in the history of aeroplane building that direct access to mechanical plants has been provided.—United Press.

Largest Land Plane

Los Angeles, June 7.

A crowd of 20,000 at Clover Field cheered Maj. Carl Cover, test pilot, and a crew of four as the world's largest commercial land plane took off on its first flight today.

The Douglas DC-4 ship cost U.S.$1,700,000, weighs 32½ tons and carries 42 passengers. Maj. Cover, vice president of Douglas Aircraft Corporation, lifted the huge ship from the ground and circled over southern California for an hour and a quarter. He later landed the ship at Burbank Union Air Terminal.—United Press.

"The Buccaneer"

A blood-and-thunder story of piracy and war along the coast of Louisiana, "The Buccaneer" which opened yesterday at the Grand Theatre, has all that could be asked for in the way of spectacle and drama. Hand-to-hand fighting, burning ships at sea, walking the plank etc. are all included in this latest work of Cecil B. de Milie and the result is an extremely absorbing film. In the title role Mr. Frederick March is a dashing figure who talks with a surprisingly convincing French accent. Miss Franciska Gaal, a new star, justifies her advance publicity as the girl forced to walk the plank who later is plucked out of the sea by the pirate captain. One of the best scenes is that showing the pirates coming out of the swamps in their hundreds to rally to the American colours against the invaders. The picture contains too many stirring scenes to permit description and is well worth seeing. Others in the cast include M.r Akim Tamiroff, who is magnificent as a burly pirate, Miss Margot Grahame, Mr. Walter Brennan, Mr. Ian Keith, Mr. Douglass Dumbrille and Miss Beulah Bondi.—R.R.R.

Appealing to the feminine part of the audience on account of the lavish wardrobe worn by Miss Kay Francis, "Women Are Like That" opened at the Cathay Theatre yesterday. In almost every scene Miss Francis wears a different ensemble, and these are shown to advantage by the settings, which appear to have been prepared with the intention of emphasizing the star's wardrobe. Mr. Pat O'Brien, whom one usually associates with "he-man" roles, plays the part of a big city business man, and although he is on strange ground, he acquits himself well. The story deals with love among New York's smart advertising set, Miss Francis and Mr. O'Brien playing the part of husband and wife. Through entering business in an effort to save her husband, she loses him for a time, but in the end he proves that he has a smarter business mind than she, and they are reunited.—R.S.

Quick Inauguration of "Pump Priming"

Washington, June 8.

President Roosevelt has ordered the Public Works Administration to prepare immediately to handle projects amounting to a total sum of $600,000,000.

The object of this order is to create a large demand for iron and steel building materials, and assure a quick inauguration of the "Pump Priming" programme as soon as the "Spending and Lending" measure is passed.—Reuter.

Major Battle Waged In South Shansi

Chinese and Japanese in Fight for Houma

Hankow, June 8.

Chinese and Japanese troops are fighting for possession of Houma, a strategically important town in south Shansi, situated on the south bank of the Fen River.

Occupation of Houma by the Chinese would, it is believed in Chinese circles here, force the Japanese troops to withdraw from south Shansi.

The Chinese troops engaged in the battle are under the command of General Wei Li-huang, deputy commander of the Chinese forces in Shansi.

General Wei, according to belated reports received here today, ordered a general offensive in the Houma sector on May 25, and severe fighting has been raging since then.

In addition to the division of Japanese troops defending the town, further Japanese troops are stated to have been dispatched to Houma from south and north Shansi as reinforcements.

Describing the battle, Chinese reports say it has been marked by intensive artillery duels in which the two sides are firing 3,000 to 5,000 shells a day.

The position of the Chinese forces at Pienkwan, in north-western Shansi, east of the Yelow River, is admitted to be critical.

The Japanese are stated to be advancing on Pienkwan from the north and east from bases at Chingshuiho and Sohsien, respectively.

An unconfirmed report says that the Chinese have already evacuated Pienkwan, but this at present lacks confirmation.—Reuter.

Hankow Evacuation Welcomed

Japanese Say City Will Be Cleared of Civilians

Chinese reports of a wholesale evacuation of civilians from Hankow will not affect the Japanese army's plans to march on the Wuhan area, a Japanese military spokesman announced at a press conference yesterday morning.

"From these dispatches, it would seem as if the Chinese intend to leave nothing but an empty shell which would be of no value to the Japanese forces," the spokesman said. "But this will not change our intention to seize Hankow."

When a correspondent suggested that the evacuation might presage stubborn resistance by making the city a military camp, the spokesman replied:

"There is nothing we would like better."

"It would only serve to confirm our declarations that Hankow is a vast armed camp. It would prevent any discussion as to its status. As a matter of fact, we would like to see the Chinese evacuate their civilians from Canton, now that it is a fortified city."

More Unemployed in Great Britain

Increase Includes New Batch Leaving Schools

SPECIAL TO THE "N.C.D.N."

London, June 8.

Ministry of Labour estimates showed that on May 16 the number of insured persons in employment in Great Britain, exclusive of persons within the agricultural scheme, was approximately 11,375,000—15,000 less than the month before and, on a comparable basis, 148,000 less than a year before.

At the same date registered unemployed numbered 1,778,805, comprising 1,314,118 wholly unemployed, 397,529 temporarily laid off and 67,158 normally in casual employment.

The total is 31,041 more than at April 4 and, on a comparable basis, 382,000 more than at May 24, 1937.

The increase was mainly accounted for by the numbers of persons temporarily laid off in the coal and cotton industries, and it also included 10,236 boys and girls newly registered at the end of the Easter term.—Reuter.

Gen. Ugaki Talks To U.S. Editor

Tells "Collier's" Magazine Japan's Resources Ample For Long War

Tokyo, June 8.

Japan has ample resources for "any war of attrition against China," Gen. Kazushige Ugaki, Foreign Minister, told, Mr. W. B. Courtney, Editor of the American weekly magazine, "Collier's" in an interview today.

Gen. Ugaki expressed appreciation of America's neutrality and "sympathetic understanding of Japan's position."

Mr. Courtney, who has just returned from a plane trip to Manchoukuo and North China, was the first foreign correspondent to interview Gen. Ugaki since his appointment as Foreign Minister.

The American editor began his interview with questions on Manchoukuo. Referring to his flying trip, he said he was impressed by the developments which had taken place in Manchoukuo, whose scenery reminded him of Wisconsin and Ohio. He said North China was dry and dusty everywhere.

Manchoukuo Development

Commenting on Japan's reported plans to develop Manchoukuo in ten years, Mr. Courtney said he believed this length of time was hardly enough for industrial development, especially since Japan has "too many things in hand." He recalled that half a century was required for developing America's west.

Gen. Ugaki replied that Japan has seen much experience in developing Formosa and Korea and besides she wants to raise Manchoukuo to the level of Japanese civilization, not the American level.

Mr. Courtney referred to the opinion prevailing in some quarters in American that Parliamentary Government is "going out of fashion in Japan and is being replaced by Fascism."

No Fascism

Gen. Ugaki flatly denied the suggestion and said "all misgivings on this score would be dispelled if one would take the trouble to go through Japanese history."

The American editor then asked Gen. Ugaki for a message to America as Foreign Minister. Gen. Ugaki promptly replied that he was desirous of bringing about closer relations and friendship between Japan and the United States. He said he wished Americans would get acquainted with Japanese history.

"The Japanese nation loves justice and it is deplorable that a nation strong in war should be denounced as a war-like people," the Foreign Minister said.

"Japan has ample resources in men, munitions and provisions to carry on protracted hostilities against China.

Cannot Be Exhausted

"I hope that Americans fully understand the fact that Japan is not a country which can be exhausted in fighting China."

Referring to some foreign Powers alleged to be assisting China by supplying arms and ammunition or "making uncalled for interference" since the start of the conflict, Gen. Ugaki asked Mr. Courtney to convey Japan's appreciation of the "neutral attitude consistently maintained by the American Government and the sympathetic understanding extended by the American people."—Domei.

Amoy Island Returns To Normal

Peace and Order Prevail; Food Plentiful

Life on Amoy Island has almost returned to normal, with order being maintained and food supplies plentiful, a spokesman for the Japanese Consulate-General in Shanghai declared yesterday.

"With the rehabilitation of Amoy under way," he said, "it has been decided to let the former Japanese residents return to the city and also to allow foreigners in general and part of the Chinese on Kulangssu Island to go back.

"Mail service already has been restored and hygienic conditions are excellent. Amoy is enjoying peace and plenty these days due to the cooperation between the Japanese consular and naval authorities.

Gen. Matsui May Be on Cabinet Council

Tokyo, June 8.

Apparently reflecting the strong opinion prevailing among state Ministers in favour of retaining the existing Cabinet Councillor system, Premier Prince Ayamaro Konoye reportedly has decided to fill the vacancies made by the appointments of four Councillors to his Cabinet.

These were Home Minister, Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu, Foreign Minister, Gen. Kazushige Ugaki, Education Minister, Gen. Baron Sadao Araki and Finance Minister, Seihin Ikeda.

One of the four vacancies on the Cabinet Council is expected to be filled by an Army man. In this case it is considered likely that Gen. Iwane Matsui, former Commander-in-Chief of the Japanese Expeditionary Force in Central China with headquarters at Shanghai, will be appointed.—Domei.

German Ex-Servicemen To Visit London

U.S. War Pilots May Lose Licences

Washington, June 7.

President Roosevelt today threatened to cancel the licenses of American airplane pilots participating in revolutions against recognized Governments.

He said the warning did not extend to Americans serving recognized foreign Governments in wars against other Powers. The statement, therefore, was believed directly particularly at Americans serving the Nationalists in Spain and the Cedillistas insurgents in Mexico.—United Press.

Daring Prison Break Made in Arizona

Three American Youths And Negro Escape

Florence, Ariz., June 7.

Stabbing one guard over the heart and injuring two others, five convicts today seized four pistols in a daring escape from the Prison Farm here.

The convicts commandeered a truck which was last seen travelling toward the mountains.

Joe Lazear, the guard who was stabbed over the heart, was in a serious condition. Three convicts are American youths and the fourth member is a negro. They are Tony Meyers, James Bailey, J. P. Van Winkle, Richards Johnson and Columbus Reece, negro.

Armed deputies tonight captured two of five prisoners who escap from the State prison farm here today after stabbling a guard and wounding two other persons. The pair was captured at Coolidge Dam.

The two convicts, J. P. Van Winkle, 20, and Richards Johnson, 19, were returned to the farm as deputies from five counties surrounded the others in the mountainous region on the San Carlos Apache reservation. Those still eluding searching parties were Tony Meyers, 23, James Bailey, 20, and Columbus Reece, 31-year-old negro.—United Press.

Japan's Biggest Airport To Open Tomorrow

Huge Field Result of Two Years' Work

Tokyo, June 8.

Japan's biggest airport, covering 245 acres and completed after two years of work, will be opened on June 10 at Yonago in Tottori Prefecture.

The air field, which was started in 1936, will be used as a stopping point for planes flying between Tokyo and Hsinking on a four-hour-and-a-half schedule. Yonago is located in central Japan. The airport is on the shores of the Japan Sea.

It is equipped with wireless telegraph facilities, two hangars, a motor factory, oil depot and other buildings constructed with donations from residents of the prefecture to the Ministry of Communications. Pilots will be trained under the direction of the Aviation Bureau of the Ministry of Communications.—Domei.

Mt. Mayon Roars More Ominously

Eruption Expected to Become Worse

Manila, June 8.

Mt. Mayon, the 8274-feet-high volcano in Alba province, which has been in eruption for the past few days, began to roar more ominously at 7.30 this morning, and a slight earthquake was registered in the surrounding area.

Father Miguel Selga, director of the Weather Bureau, who yesterday announced that the eruption was not explosive and entailed no danger to life, today expressed the opinion that the eruption may become worse.

The authorities state that everything is under control. The 20,000 persons who have evacuated from endangered areas surrounding the volcano are now concentrated in refugee camps, but food is scarce, and preparations are being made to rush adequate supplies.—Reuter.

Mr. Sun Fo, who is still on his tour of Europe, is staying in Brussels for a little while.—Havas.

Damages of Three Farthings Awarded

Libel Action Arising Out of Debt-collecting Agency Letters to Doctor's Wife

A libel action arising out of a debt-collecting agency's letters to a doctor's wife was again before Mr. Justice Finlay and a special jury in the King's Bench Division on April 7. The action was brought by Mrs. Florence Emily Pierce, of Belton Lodge, Longbridge Road, Barking, Essex, against the Witney Blanket Company, Ltd., of Butter Cross Works, Witney, and the Recovery and Adjustment Bureau, Ltd., of Cannon Street, London, E.C., states the "Manchester Guardian."

The matter arose out of the purchase of a cloth coat from the Witney Blanket Company in November, 1935, by Mrs. Pierce for £2 15s. on the instalment system. Mrs. Pierce's case was that after she had settled her account in October, 1936, she received communications from the bureau describing her as a "stubborn defaulter," demanding immediate payment, and indicating that an Inspector Matthews would be calling upon her to deal with the matter. It was stated that Inspector Matthews and others named in the communications were fictitious persons, and Mr. B. B. Gillis, counsel for Mrs. Pierce, maintained that the documents were intended to frighten and intimidate her.

In the defence the Witney Blanket Company denied that they caused the letters in question to be published, though they admitted employing the bureau, who had not sent them with their authority. The Recovery and Adjustment Bureau, Ltd., maintained that they were written on behalf of the other defendants. They further stated that the letters were part of a stock series of five employed to address all debtors.

Brought All On Herself

Mr. G. O. Slade, for the Witney Blanket Company, in addressing the jury, said Mrs. Pierce was not an uneducated type of person who would be affected by letters in the way that "Mrs. 'Arris," of "Mrs. Gamp" fame, might have been. Mrs. Pierce was a woman of education, who was not troubled financially. Though half-demented over the trouble of her husband's illness she had not hesitated to buy herself a 55s. coat on credit.

She has brought all this on herself, said Mr. Slade. If she had carried out the contract she made she would never have received any of the letters at all. Why this tender solicitude for persons who won't pay their bills? You are not dealing with a person who could not pay or who had not the opportunity to pay, but with a person who just doesn't pay.

Mr. P. B. Morle, for the bureau, said his clients were sincerely sorry that by a most unfortunate accident they sent the communications to the plaintiff. Throughout October, November, and December, 1936, they were under the impression that the debt was still outstanding, because they had not been notified by the Witney Blanket Company that payment had been made. The only person or persons to whom the defamatory words were published—if they were published—were the servant or servants of the bureau, who merely dealt with her case as one of a large number of debtors.

No single person could be brought forward who had thought a bit the worse of her because she had been called a wilful defaulter and worthy of the attention of "Inspector Matthews." Mr. Morle said the jury had not to judge the merits or demerits of the bureau or their methods of corrying on their business. They were not entitled to give Mrs. Pierce damages because they did not like the methods adopted by the bureau.

Faking a Telegram

In his summing up Mr. Justice Finlay said it was quite right to bring pressure on people who did not pay their debts, but the jury would probably think the method of faking a telegram was an extremely undesirable thing. They might also think a letter with an invention of a district agent was extremely undesirable. Referring to another letter sent by the bureau, Mr. Justice Finlay said: "Nobody knows what 'legal adjustment or attestment' means. It is obviously legal phraseology designed to frighten people. "Legal attestment' is of course mere nonsense, and anybody who knew anything about the law would know it was nonsense."

Mr. Justice Finlay indicated that he woud later hear legal arguments on the question whether there had been a publication of the libels and said he was putting the matter to the jury on the assumption that there had been publication.

The jury found that the defendants were equally responsible for the libels and that the bureau acted within the scope of their authority. They awarded Mrs. Pierce a farthing on each of the three libels.

Mr. Slade said that defendants had paid £100 into court, and Mr. Justice Finlay said he would consider arguments as to costs later in the day.

After hearing legal arguments, Mr. Justice Finlay entered judgment for Mrs. Pierce for three farthings damages without costs, and ordered that the defendants should recover against her the general costs of the action subsequent to the date of the payment into court, except for the costs attributable to the issue of liability.

Australian Hunter Killed by Elephant

SPECIAL TO THE "N.C.D.N."

Broken Hill, N.Rh., June 8.

Mr. Charles Ross, the well-known Australian hunter, was killed by an elephant today at Maussi.

Mr. Ross, who was employed in Government elephant control work, had shot 576 elephants, and had put fourteen shots into his 577th when the enraged beast trampled on him despite rescue attempts on the part of three native game wardens.—Reuter.

Ceneral Franco Denies Rumours of Unrest

Report of Dissention in Nationalist Spain

Saragossa, June 8.

General Franco's Headquarters today informed Reuter's correspondent that there is "not a shred of truth" in the reports of unrest in Nationalist Spain.

The reports mentioned emanated from the Gibraltar correspondent of the Spanish Press Agency, and cited rumours of an abortive revolt due to opposition to the presence of German and Italian military advisers.

A number of secret meetings of Spanish officers, under General Quiepo de Llano, one of the Nationalist leaders, were said to have been held, at which, it was stated, the officers argued that even a Red Spain was better than an Italian Spain.

Reports of alleged unrest in Seville were also brought to Gibraltar Nationalist army officers visiting the Rock to buy medical supplies.—Reuter.

Sudetens Memorandum To Czech Government

Prepared to Negotiate on Basis of "Eight Points"

Prague, June 8

The Headquarters of the Sudeten Germans announced today that a memorandum on their demands had been submitted to the Czech Government.

The memorandum, it added, was based on the eight points of Herr Konrad Henlein's speech at Carlsbad on April 24, and informed the Czech authorities that the Sudeten Germans were prepared to enter into negotiations on the basis of those points.

Newspapers here said today that the Czech Government had decided to introduce a bill extending the present two-year term of military service to three years, as a provisional measure during the present international tension.

Eight Points

Under the proposed bill soldiers at present serving their term of service would be required to complete full three years.

The eight points made out by Herr Henlein were:—

1. Full equality of status between Germans and Czechs.
2. Guarantee of this equality by the recognition of the Sudeten Germans as a legal entity.
3. The determination and legal recognition of "the German regions" within Czechelovakia.
4. Full autonomy for the Germans in these regions.
5. Legal protection for every citizen living outside the region of his own nationality.
6. Removal of the "injustices" inflicted upon the Sudeten Germans since 1918 and reparation for them.
7. Recognition of the principle of German officials for German regions; and
8. Full liberty to profess German nationality and German political philosophy.—Reuter.

London Stocks

Tuesday's Closing Quotations

London, June 7.

The undertone on the stock exchange today was cheerful, despite the continued paucity of business. British gilt-edged securities benefitted from a number of small investment orders. Industrials rallied slightly. Home rails were scrutinised by bargain hunters. German and Austrian loans were not affected by news of the default in the Austrian loan interest service. Kaffirs early ruled firm and active, then turned irregular. —Reuter.

British Rubber Stocks

London, June 7.

Stocks of rubber in Great Britain on June 4 were estimated at 87,837 tons, showing an increase of 1,314 tons over the previous week: The stock of rubber in London on June 4 totalled 57,876 tons, showing an increase of 573 tons, while the stock at Liverpool was listed at 29,961 tons, representing an increase of 741 tons.

British rubber deliveries during the week ended June 4 totalled 774 tons, compared with 1,127 tons during the previous week. Deliveries in London during this period totalled 519 tons, compared with 752 tons during the previous week—a decrease of 233 tons. Liverpool deliveries, with a total of 255 tons, revealed a decrease of 120 tons from the previous week.—Reuter.

Paris Bourse

Paris, June 8.

Favourable foreign reports and the strength of raw materials resulted in a higher opening on the Paris Bourse this morning, particularly in Internationals. During the session French issues remained steady but featureless owing to a complete lack of trading, while foreign stocks gained, notably gold mines.

The closing was calm, with most shares ending the day at or near their previous levels, with the exception of Internationals which showed good gains over the previous days.—Havas.

New York Stocks

Tuesday's Closing Quotations

New York, June 7.

Stock prices on Wall Street today finished with fractional gains predominating. The long expected Government relief spending programme is restraining sellers, while indications that Washington will move to investigate monopolistic trends in industry and finance dulled buyers. Steels were resistant on expectations that activity will reach 35 per cent. of capacity in the early autumn. The turnover today amounted to 370,000 shares.

Dow-Jones Summary

By Courtesy of Swan, Culbertson & Fritz

A flurry of buying was witnessed on the Stock Exchange today as a result of Senator Guy M. Gillette's victory at the Iowa primaries, after which the market lapsed into dullness. Other favourable factors included: President Roosevelt's plans for speeding up relief spending; reports of aviation exports far exceeding those of last year; and, the firmness ruling in the scrap copper market. On the other hand, unfavourable items were: the dividend omission by Mack Trucks, Inc. and the statement made by Mr. William Stamps Farish, Director of the Standard Oil of New Jersey that the Company's net profits for the present year will probably be between 30 and 35 per cent. below that of last year. However, dividend news had less effect on stocks today than yesterday.

U.S. Commodities

Tuesday's Closing Quotations

New York, June 7.

Trading in the cotton market was early inactive and prices declined on Liverpool cables, and Bombay and Liverpool selling, including July option liquidation. Offers were generally small, and, when foreign selling subsided, prices rallied on trade and local buying and the firmness of wheat, but then again eased towards the close in sympathy with stocks. Finally, the market closed steady, with quotations ranging from unchanged to 4 points down.

After easing on disappointing cables the rubber market steadied up on commission house and local buying, indications of an Akron demand and reports that primary offerings were well absorbed by the spot market. At the last call-over, gains of 1 to 3 points were recorded.

After early weakness wheat prices in Chicago rallied on professionals covering, mill and exporters absorption, unfavourable weather reports in the winter wheat belt, rust fears in the spring wheat belt and dry weather reports from Australia. At the final bell, gains of 1¾ o 1⅞ cents were registered.

In the sugar market there was a little trade buying and covering, owing to steadier London advices, coupled with switching of July option to distants. Later, prices reacted partially on scattered hedging. At the close, quotations ranged from unchanged to a ½ point down.

The silk market eased on the weakness of cables and liquidation, but did not fully reflect the decline in Japan. There was some hedge selling owing to the narrowing disparity of prices. Towards the close, trade covering was a steadying influence for nears. Closing quotations were from a ½ to 1½ cents down.

Belgian Boel Works

Brussels, June 8.

The intervention of the Belgian Government in the quota Conflict between the Belgian Smelting Works Boel and the Belgian Steelworks Union has led to the withdrawal of the quota demands of the Boel Works which had been raised because of the increasingly difficult state of the export business upon which the Belgian iron and steel industries are greatly dependent.

The quota demands of the Boel Works had hitherto prevented the International Raw Steel Cartel from reaching a decision to prolong the quota convention. Nothing, however, now stands in the way of this decision being reached at the session of the International Raw Steel Cartel meeting to be held in Paris on June 15.

That is all the more noteworthy since in this case it is not a matter of usual extension by one year of the Ireg's, i.e. the International Raw Steel Cartel's, agreements but of stabilization of the export and price policy till December 31, 1940, of different sales unions of the International Raw Steel Cartel.

Berlin Bourse

Berlin, June 7.

After several days of interruption on account of the Whitsun recess the share market, as had been expected, opened firm although at first only operators placed buying orders. The buoyant mood of the market however soon set also bank customers buying in order to take advantage—before a rise—of the low share price level which, at the dividends now being paid by most companies, offers a very satisfactory return on invested capital. Price advances of one percent were frequent, the best being done by Siemens & Halske which rose three per cent. to 207.

Although the turnover on the fixed interest securities market was small, the general outlook was friendly. Reichs old liquidation loan stood unchanged at 132½, while state loans were a shade firmer. On the gold mortgage bond market there was no change.

Call money stood at 2⅜ to 2¾ percent.—Trans-Ocean.

Coal Output and Sales

Messrs. George McBain have received information from the Mentoukuo Mines that the production of coal for May was 14,000 tons, and that sales amounted to 34,100 tons.

Imports Into Nigeria and Gold Coast

New Quotas for Year on Cotton and Rayon Goods

London, June 7.

An announcement is made today regarding quotas for cotton and artificial silk piece goods imported into Nigeria and the Gold Coast, which will operate after the expiration of the present quota at the end of the month. The new quota period will be for one year.

Quotas for cotton piece goods in Nigeria will be calculated on the basis of actual imports in 1935 plus 50 per cent. and those for cotton piece goods and cotton towels in the Gold Coast on the basis of actual imports in 1935.

Quotas for artificial silk piece goods in both Nigeria and the Gold Coast which, as from the beginning of the next quota period will again include artificial silk plushes, will be based on actual imports of these goods in 1937. Plushes containing not less than 20 per cent. and not more than 60 per cent. of artificial silk were exempted from the quota from July last.

Licences for the importation of these goods into Nigeria and the Gold Coast will be issued on the basis of use made by the licencees of their licences for the current quota period. A reserve of 10 per cent. of each quota will, however, be retained for allocation at the discretion of the Comptroller of Customs to newcomers and special cases.—Wireless through Reuter.

Hukuang Railway Loans

New York, June 7.

J. P. Morgan and Co. today announced that in accordance with China's offer on April 5, 1937, funds had been received from China for payment of coupons due on June 15 on bonds of all four series of the Imperial Chinese five per cent. Hukuang Railway loan of 1911.—United Press.

Sugar Prices Reduced

New York, June 7.

Leading cane sugar refiners today reduced eastern territory refined sugar prices to U.S.$4.50 from U.S. $4.65. Prices in western and southern territories after today will rise from U.S.$4.40 to U.S.$4.50.—United Press.

Reichsmark Quotations

Berlin, June 7.

The Reichsmark was quoted today at New York 40.15, Paris 1449.—, Amsterdam 72.70 to 72.75, London 12.3175, Paris quoted sterling at 178.25 to 178.30 and the Gold Dollar at 36.03 to 36.04.—Trans-Ocean.

THE German Himalaya Expedition reached the main camp on June 2 from where an attempt will be made to ascend Nanaga Parbat. The expedition will be assisted by an aeroplane which arrived a few days ago in Srinagar in Kashmir and is in wireless communication with the main camp.
